Must Meet $15 Billion Deficit

Democrat Leader Predicts Income Tax Will Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, the third-ranking Democratic leader in the House, predicts President Johnson will ask the new Congress for a $10-billion to $15-billion increase in the income tax.

But the Louisiana says Johnson "hasn't told me so."

Boggs, back from talks with Johnson in Texas last week, said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation" that projected expenditures of $125 billion will bring "a deficit of a considerable magnitude" over revenues pegged at between $115 billion and $118 billion.

Boggs added: "I would think that both parties, having committed themselves to fiscal responsibility, will face up to such an issue. I just don't believe that we would want a deficit of that proportion, particularly here the deficit is called for as a result of national defense commitments."

Dr. Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under John F. Kennedy and Johnson, again urged a 5 per cent across-the-board income tax boost as a device to slow the economy.

On the NBC program "Meet the Press," Heller said Sunday a tax increase should be coupled with an easing of interest rates. He said this would not bring on a recession.

Heller, now a University of Minnesota economics professor, based his tax increase advocacy on a $20-billion increase in government spending, 4 to 5 per cent boost in plant spending and an increase in war costs of $10 billion to $12 billion.

Burglaries in Two Counties Solved Through Cooperation

The cooperation of four separate law enforcement agencies led to the quick solution of a series of burglaries that occurred late Friday and early Saturday in Fickaway and Fayette Counties.

One of the cases solved was the burglary of a service station in New Holland in which a cash register, a gum ball machine and a .22 caliber revolver were taken.

Law enforcement agencies involved in the roundup of three young men and a 17-year-old juvenile were Pickaway and Fayette County Sheriff's offices, Wilbur Frazier, marshal of New Holland, and the Chillicothe Police Department.

Sheriff Don Thompson of Fayette County, investigating a burglary of Kiger Egg Farm near New Holland, had contacted the New Holland Marshal seeking information.

The lead supplied by Marshal Frazier led to the apprehension of a juvenile in the village. He in turn implicated three Chillicothe men.

They were arrested by Chillicothe Police. The three were identified as Michael Allen Walker, 18; Harold Betts Jr., 19; Thomas William Boggs, 18.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, who was at Chillicothe when the trio was arrested by police said they were booked in the Pickaway County jail but released to Fayette authorities for prosecution.

Most of the money and the revolver taken in the New Holland burglary were recovered.

The quartet also has admitted to another filling station burglary in Fayette County, the theft of a shotgun and a coat from a car in Washington C. H. and the theft of eight T-bone steaks from another car.

All of the loot has been recovered, except for the steaks which the youths consumed, Thompson said.

The juvenile was not involved in the burglary of the service station, Sheriff Radcliff said.

U.N. Nears Decision on China Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly today neared its annual decision on the admission of Red China to the world organization. Diplomats predicted a close vote on an Italian resolution referring the issue to a special committee for a year's study.

The assembly was expected to vote late tonight on the Italian resolution and two others, one, the annual Communist proposal to oust Nationalist China and seat the Communists, was believed certain of defeat. The other, the annual U.S. resolution calling for a two-thirds vote to change China's representation, appeared likely to be approved.

The Italian resolution hints that both Chinas should be in the United Nations. It speaks of the need to promote universality in the organization and "pave the way to an appropriate solution, taking into account the existing situation and the political realities of the area."

Santa Claus Gets Arrested

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A Santa Claus and his helper not only await Christmas but also arraignment on a charge of parachuting illegally into a shopping center.

The two men, clad in red suits, floated to the ground Saturday at the Thruway Plaza in suburban Cheektowaga amid cheers from children and other spectators.

A policeman immediately charged the pair with violating a general business law that prohibits parachute jumping.

Claire L. Weimer of Cheektowaga and his helper, Robert J. McDonnell of Buffalo, were released on $25 bail each pending arraignment Wednesday night.

Once Around Roundtown

MISS PUMPKIN Show Pat Dawley and Little Miss Pumpkin Show Susan Weaver are scheduled to appear in the Christmas Parade at Marysville on Dec. 3.

They will share the spotlight with Miss American Teen-Ager Rebecca Alkire. Also on hand will be Delaware's Sharon Philian, reigning Miss Ohio and runner-up in the Miss America Pageant. The Circleville High School Band also will march in the two-mile parade which will feature numerous floats, queens, other bands and a gigantic Santa Claus float.

PICKAWAY Sheriff Dwight Radcliff announced today a second patrol car is now in service for night patrol in the county.

With the second car, Radcliff says his staff will be able to answer calls and complaints more quickly and efficiently.

The sheriff urged all citizens to be prompt in reporting suspicious activities and discovery of thefts.

He cited a recent burglary attempt in the village of Williamsport, noting that if the person who discovered the incident while it was in process had notified his department promptly, an apprehension could have been made.

As it was, four unidentified persons escaped, although they were interrupted before they could make off with any of the items from a television store.

"Be cautious, be observant and above all, call the Sheriff's Department promptly," Radcliff said.

Pilot Lands 37 Panicked Passengers Safely

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force Captain told today how he slammed his crippled transport into tree tops to knock down passengers who panicked when liquid flames poured from the plane's ceiling.

Capt. Richard A. Nagel Jr., 34, of Kenmore, N.Y., managed to crash land the plane despite a smoke-filled cockpit and fire raging out of control in the cabin.

All but one of the 37 persons on board escaped serious injury in the crash at Dau Tieng Saturday. One U.S. soldier-passenger reportedly has serious internal injuries.

Nagel was making his fifth takeoff of the day ferrying soldiers at the end of Operation Attleboro the biggest U.S. operation of the war. His twin-engine C123 Provider was hit by intense ground fire just after lifting from the airstrip.

We had been warned of possible ground fire," said Nagel. "We fly with our windows open so we can hear it. This sounded like it was coming from four locations. Then we heard the slugs ripping into the plane about midway along the fuselage. Immediately a fire broke out above the left wheel well."

Panic swept the passengers when liquid fire dripped from ruptured hydraulic lines in the ceiling. They grabbed the few available parachutes and tried to pry open emergency windows, Nagel said.

Airman L.C. Ray A. Houck, 20, of Cement City, Mich., was fighting the flames with a fire extinguisher and pushed passengers away from windows. Nagel and Houck tried to keep all windows closed to slow the spread of flames.

Some in their panic, burst into the cockpit and tried to climb out a side window. From it they would have dropped into the spinning propeller. Nagel said that five persons were scrambling around the cockpit with the two pilots.

"We had to get the bird down in a hurry and the first thing I saw was a road. We'd just about decided to put it down there when an Army Caribou over-head called and told us to keep turning. We did and then he said the runway was right on our nose. I saw it."

The Dau Tieng airstrip was carved out of a rubber plantation. A Provider should have a 40-foot-wide runway, Nagel said. The Dau Tieng runway is less than 30 feet wide and lined on both sides by mine fields.

Nagel said the airplane was put "badly out of trim" by the passengers running about.

"If we hit with them still standing they would have been thrown all over the aircraft. Intentionally, I nosed it down and dragged it through the tree tops. The first jolt put everybody, including Houck, on the floor.

"We scraped over a rice paddy approaching the strip and I just kept flying until we ran out of air speed. We hit right on the edge of the runway, the nose gear collapsed and we skidded to a stop about 300 feet down the blacktop.

"It wasn't until we stopped and I started climbing out of my side window exit that I realized I had a passenger sprawled across my lap the whole time we were landing."

Nagel's wife is living in Chandler, Ariz. Houck has been in Viet Nam less than two months but was on his 199th combat sortie.

Midwest Hit By Icy Wind, Rain, Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain turned to snow and lashed the nation's midsection today and icy winds drove temperatures down.

The snow, centered over the upper Great Lakes region, fell from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan to Illinois and Indiana.

A storm with wind gusts up to 45 miles per hour drove snow and sleet into Lower Michigan Sunday night and knocked out electric power in parts of eight counties.

The storm was centered just north of Houghton Lake in north central Michigan and brought heavy rain to several other parts of the state.

The winds brought 12-foot waves crashing on the Lake Michigan shore at Grand Traverse Bay and hurled rocks as big as footballs up to 30 feet inland.

Four inches of snow fell at Marquette, Mich., in six hours, adding to the three inches already on the ground.

Brezhnev May Ask Overthrow Of China's Mao

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The ninth congress of the Hungarian Communist party opened today with only about 30 foreign delegations attending, a relatively small audience for Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev if he renews the call for a world Communist conference.

On the eve of the congress opening Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, openly called no opposition elements inside the Chinese party to rise against Mao Tse-tung.

Pravda said Mao adopted an "erroneous course," deliberately hostile to the Soviet Union, that split the world Communist movement and hampered aid to North Viet Nam. It charged that Mao ruthlessly replaced Communist ideology with his own thought, raising a threat to the world Communist movement that must be overcome.

Lung Ailment Kills Other Tiny Sisters

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Another of the Aranson quintuplets died today, leaving only one of the tiny girls still struggling to survive.

The same ailment that killed three of her sisters claimed the life of Marci Jill, last-born of the quints delivered 2½ months prematurely Saturday to Mrs. Michael Aranson, 22, one-time kindergarten teacher.

The surviving child, Roni Sue, was reported in good condition. "She is kicking and crying and we are very hopeful," said one physician.

Roni Sue was the first-born and the largest at one pound 12 ounces.

The lung ailment first claimed Susan, the third-born, who died at 2:15 a.m. Sunday just short of 24 hours after birth. The second-born, Amy Beth, died at 2:15 p.m. and the fourth-born, Kimberly Ann, at 3:40 p.m.

Dr. Lee Bass chief of pediatrics at Magee-Women's Hospital, said there also was a possibility that Marci Jill's brain had been damaged by lack of oxygen.

Dr. Wilfred J. Finegold, head of the three-man team of obstetricians that performed the delivery, said the Aransons had known since X-rays were taken Oct. 19 that they would have quintuplets.

There are five known living sets of quints. The most recent set, four girls and a boy, was born to Mrs. D.W. Lawson of Auckland, New Zealand, on July 27, 1965.

Flood-Soaked Italy Gripped by Freeze

ROME (AP) — Temperatures dropped below freezing today in most of Italy. There were few complaints, however. It was the first day this month that flood-plagued Italy has had no rain.

In devastated Florence, high schools reopened for the first time since the Nov. 4 floods. Elementary schools will reopen Dec. 5. The Florence Stock Exchange also opened today for the first time since the floods.

Road Toll Sets Ghastly Record

Hospital Board Battles Medics

LANCASTER, O. (AP) — The only hospital here and its doctors were locked today in a dispute over filling out forms for payments under federal medical care for the aged.

The Fairfield County Hospital Board of Trustees has threatened to limit admission privileges of doctors if they refuse to complete the forms, which the hospital says it needs to get payment under Medicare.

The vice president of the County Medical Society, Dr. Andrew Essman, declined to comment except to say some other hospitals in Ohio had "gone along" with the doctors.

An earlier medical society statement called the Medicare requirement "unethical and unnecessary" and said it "reflects unfavorably on the integrity" of physicians.

The doctors asked the hospital to use a rubber stamp in lieu of having the physicians write in medical information on forms to certify patients for continuing care. The hospital said it was by medical officials the stamp "would not meet the requirements of the law."

There is no controversy over admitting patients under Medicare. The problem arises with certification for continuing care, required on the 14th, 21st, 28th and 35th days of confinement.

On these re-certifications, doctors are required to state the reason for continued hospitalization, estimated time the patient will remain and method of post-hospital care, said Walter Atkins, hospital administrator.

The doctors proposed instead a rubber stamp saying in effect that the patient's medical record "is assurance of need and continued need" for hospital care.

Atkins said he had no estimate of how many patients might be affected.

"The hospital would face financial ruin and have to either curtail services or close its doors," E. R. Lentz, chairman of the hospital trustees, said in a statement over loss of payments because of failure to complete the forms.

Atkins said he had no estimate of how much money might be involved. "We have some cases where doctors have not completed these statements in an acceptable manner and we have not been paid," he said. He said some of the hospital's 48 active staff members were complying with the law.

The hospital board statement said admission rights might be curtailed but Atkins said "we haven't had a case yet," so he could not say specifically what limits might be invoked.

The hospital is the only one in this city of 33,000 about 20 miles southeast of Columbus.

Mold Attacks Damaged Art

Gas Treatment Needed at Once

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — A leading Italian art restorer said today mold has started to attack Florence's flood-damaged masterpieces.

Dr. Giovanni Urbani, director of the Central Institute of Restoration in Rome, said there is little that can be done about it until a "hospital" for soaked paintings goes into operation.

This is a large building behind the Pitti Place being equipped with furnaces and air blowers for months of controlled drying. Urbani said the building will be ready to function in two days.

He added that even before the long drying process can begin, however, the hospital a huge single room nearly 500 feet long — would have to be filled with a special gas to kill the mold. After that the furnaces and blowers will be put in operation to control the degree of humidity and regulate the rate of drying.

"Without this," said Urbani, who came to Florence to assist local art authorities, "the damage to the paintings would be truly fatal."

Of the 1,300 masterpieces counted damaged, more than 900 were on canvas or wood.

High Ranking Cong Defects

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese military command today displayed a man it said was the highest ranking Viet Cong to defect. He was identified as Lt. Col. Le Xuan Chuyen, alias Thanh Son.

Government military spokesmen said the 37-year-old man gave himself into government hands on Aug. 2 because "he was not satisfied with his assignment as well as the Communist political stand."

End of Line Is Reached By Proud Old Phoebe Snow

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP) — The Phoebe Snow, a passenger train with a legacy of speed and comfort dating back more than 60 years, roiled toward oblivion today.

When its eastbound and westbound trips are completed today in Chicago and Hoboken, N. J., the Erie-Lackawanna train will become a memory.

Railroad officials said the train was canceled because of rising costs and declining passengers.

The last westbound train left the Hoboken yard Sunday morning, saluted by the blast of train whistles and the waves of railroad workers.

The train's eastbound version began its final journey in Chicago Sunday evening.

A record holiday traffic death toll was set when 728 persons were killed in highway accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Victims under 18 years of age numbered 125.

This compared with a non-holiday weekend two weeks ago when 546 died in traffic. Eighty-one were under 18.

Both 102-hour periods covered the span from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday, to midnight Sunday.

The record toll outstripped the former Thanksgiving holiday death record of 615 set during the four-day period last year, and the all-time traffic death record for a holiday, set during the 1965 Christmas period when 720 died in a 78-hour count.

Many accidents resulted in multiple fatalities, with two to five persons killed in a single crash. Five persons including two married couples died in one head-on collision near Dryden, N. Y., Saturday. Several fourth-death smashups were reported.

Sunday was by far the deadliest day with nearly 250 deaths.

Apparently, the unusually mild, pleasant weather over most of the nation during the holiday lured unprecedented numbers of persons onto the highways. Millions crowded the roads going home on the last day of the weekend, many running into unfavorable weather conditions posed by widespread rain in the central section of the

3 Students Hurt in Ohio Plane Crash

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A twin-engine private plane, carrying three University of Dayton students back to school, crashed landed in a field near Springboro today and the students and the pilot were injured.

Warren County Sheriff Byron Kennard said the students were treated at the Springboro Clinic for minor injuries. The pilot, listed as Norbert James Engle, 42, of Washington, D. C., was taken to a Dayton hospital.

The sheriff listed the students as:

Theresa Engle, 18, daughter of the pilot; William F. Weaver 18 of Wilmington, Del., and Michael F. Stallo 18, of Alexandria, Va.

Sheriff Kennard said the plane was on its wheels when it came to a halt but that it was almost demolished. He said he was told there apparently had been icing on the wings.

The crash occurred only a short distance from the Montgomery County Airport where the plane was supposed to have landed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, the third-ranking Democratic leader in the House predicts President Johnson will ask the new Congress for a $10-billion to $15-billion increase in the income tax.

Burglaries in Two Counties Solved Through Cooperation

The cooperation of four separate law enforcement agencies led to the quick solution of a series of burglaries that occurred late Friday and early Saturday in Pickaway and Fayette Counties.

One of the cases solved was the burglary of a service station in New Holland in which a cash register, a gum ball machine and a .22 caliber revolver were taken.

Law enforcement agencies involved in the roundup of three young men and a 17-year-old juvenile were Pickaway and Fayette County Sheriff's staffs, Wilbur Frazier, marshal of New Holland, and the Chillicothe Police Department.

Sheriff Don Thompson of Fayette County, investigating a burglary of Kiger Egg Farm near New Holland, had contacted the New Holland Marshal seeking information.

The lead supplied by Marshal Frazier led to the apprehension of a juvenile in the village. He in turn implicated three Chillicothe men.

They were arrested by Chillicothe Police. The three were identified as Michael Allen Waller, 18; Harold Betts Jr., 19; Thomas William Boggs, 18.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, who was at Chillicothe when the trio was arrested by police said they were booked in the Pickaway County jail but released to Fayette authorities for prosecution.

Most of the money and the revolver taken in the New Holland burglary were recovered.

The quartet also has admitted to another filling station burglary in Fayette County, the theft of a shotgun and a coat from a car in Washington C. H. and the theft of eight T-bone steaks from another car.

All of the loot has been recovered, except for the steaks which the youths consumed, Thompson said.

The juvenile was not involved in the burglary of the service station, Sheriff Radcliff said.

New Team Keeps Watch On Viet Fund

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The head of a U.S. government watchdog team said today his group soon will broaden its surveillance of the way $25-billion effort in Viet Nam.

"We're going to look into anything and everything here," said Homer Anderson, manager of the two-month-old Saigon office of the General Accounting Office.

The GAO has 12 staff investigators in Saigon. Seven have been on special assignments since August, checking particularly on more than $800 million in construction contracts, the handling of the $700-million-a-year AID program, and persistent congestion in the Saigon port.

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., referred to this in talking with newsmen at Da Nang Sunday. Young spoke then of an increase in the GAO staff in Viet Nam.

Young completed a three-day inspection tour in Viet Nam today and flew to Bangkok for a look at U.S. military activities there.

3 Students Hurt in Ohio Plane Crash

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A twin-engine private plane, carrying three University of Dayton students back to school, crashed landed in a field near Springfield today and the students and the pilot were injured.

Warren County Sheriff Byron Kennard said the students were treated at the Springfield Clinic for minor injuries. The pilot, listed as Norbert James Engle, 42, of Washington, D. C., was taken to a Dayton hospital.

The sheriff listed the students as:

Theresa Engle, 18, daughter of the pilot; William F. Weaver 18 of Wilmington, Del., and Michael F. Stallo 18, of Alexandria, Va.

Sheriff Kennard said the plane was on its wheels when it came to a halt but that it was almost demolished. He said he was told there apparently had been icing on the wings.

The crash occurred only a short distance from the Montgomery County Airport where the plane was supposed to have landed.

Once Around Roundtown

MISS PUMPKIN Show Patti Dawley and Little Miss Pumpkin Show Susan Weaver are scheduled to appear in the Christmas Parade at Marysville on Dec. 3.

They will share the spotlight with Miss American Teen-Ager Rebecca Alkire. Also on hand will be Delaware's Sharon Phyllian, reigning Miss Ohio and runner-up in the Miss America Pageant. The Circleville High School Band also will march in the two-mile parade which will feature numerous floats, queens, other bands and a gigantic Santa Claus float.

PICKAWAY Sheriff Dwight Radcliff announced today a second patrol car is now in service for night patrol in the county.

With the second car, Radcliff says his staff will be able to answer calls and complaints more quickly and efficiently.

The sheriff urged all citizens to be prompt in reporting suspicious activities and discovery of thefts.

He cited a recent burglary attempt in the village of Williamsport, noting that if the person who discovered the incident while it was in process had notified his department promptly, an apprehension could have been made.

As it was, four unidentified persons escaped, although they were interrupted before they could make off with any of the items from a television store.

"Be cautious, be observant and above all, call the Sheriff's Department promptly," Radcliff said.

Pilot Lands 37 Panicked Passengers Safely

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force Captain told today how he slammed his crippled transport into tree tops to knock down passengers who panicked when liquid flames poured from the plane's ceiling.

Capt. Richard A. Nagel Jr., 34, of Kenmore, N.Y., managed to crash land the plane despite a smoke-filled cockpit and fire raging out of control in the cabin.

All but one of the 37 persons on board escaped serious injury in the crash at Dau Tieng Saturday. One U.S. soldier-passenger reportedly has serious internal injuries.

Nagel was making his fifth takeoff of the day ferrying soldiers at the end of Operation Attleboro the biggest U.S. operation of the war. His twin-engine C123 Provider was hit by intense ground fire just after lifting from the airstrip.

We had been warned of possible ground fire," said Nagel. "We fly with our windows open so we can hear it. This sounded like it was coming from four locations. Then we heard the slugs ripping into the plane about midway along the fuselage. Immediately a fire broke out above the left wheel well."

Panic swept the passengers when liquid fire dripped from ruptured hydraulic lines in the ceiling. They grabbed the few available parachutes and tried to pry open emergency windows, Nagel said.

Airman I.C. Ray A. Houck, 20, of Cement City, Mich., was fighting the flames with a fire extinguisher and pushed passengers away from windows. Nagel and Houck tried to keep all windows closed to slow the spread of flames.

Some in their panic, burst into the cockpit and tried to climb out a side window. From it they would have dropped into the spinning propeller. Nagel said that five persons were scrambling around the cockpit with the two pilots.

"We had to get the bird down in a hurry and the first thing I saw was a road. We'd just about decided to put it down there when an Army Caribou overhead called and told us to keep turning. We did and then he said the runway was right on our nose. I saw it."

The Dau Tieng airstrip was carved out of a rubber plantation. A Provider should have a 40-foot-wide runway, Nagel said. The Dau Tieng runway is less than 30 feet wide and lined on both sides by mine fields.

Nagel said the airplane was put "badly out of trim" by the passengers running about.

"If we hit with them still standing they would have been thrown all over the aircraft. Intentionally, I nosed it down and dragged it through the tree tops. The first jolt put everybody, including Houck, on the floor.

"We scraped over a rice paddy approaching the strip and I just kept flying it until we ran out of air speed. We hit right on the edge of the runway, the nose gear collapsed and we skidded to a stop about 300 feet down the blacktop.

"It wasn't until we stopped and I started climbing out of my side window exit that I realized I had a passenger sprawled across my lap the whole time we were landing."

Nagel's wife is living in Chandler, Ariz. Houck has been in Viet Nam less than two months but was on his 199th combat sortie.

Youngstown's Teachers Back In Classrooms

Faculty Members, Board Agree on Bargaining Vote

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Classes were resumed for public school pupils here today as striking members of the Youngstown Federation of Teachers returned to the classrooms following an agreement for a collective bargaining election in 1968.

The election will be conducted by the American Arbitration Association and will determine whether the teachers federation or the Youngstown Education Association represents classroom teachers.

The education association's contract as bargaining agent for the teachers expires in 1968.

An agreement reached Saturday with school Supt. Dr. J. H. Wanamaker was approved by the Federation Sunday night by a vote of 238-2. The executive board of the Youngstown Education Association later approved the agreement.

A key point won by the federation, which struck last Monday, was that administrative personnel are not to vote in the election, only classroom teachers. Administrators will vote separately.

The strike affected 28,000 students in the city's 46 schools who will have to make up three days of classes missed last week. Thanksgiving Day and Friday were regular holidays.

The Youngstown Education Association claims to represent 950 teachers, including supervisory personnel. The federation says it represents the rest of about 1,400 teachers.

Meanwhile, a teachers' strike is still on in nearby Hubbard and affects 3,700 students in four schools. No action has been taken on attempts to get a restraining order against the Hubbard Federation of Teachers, which also struck last Monday.

The Hubbard federation walked out over the collective bargaining issue and demands for a 10 per cent pay increase.

A federation spokesman said no progress toward a settlement was made in a bargaining session which ended at 3 a.m. today. Pickets returned to the four Hubbard schools following the Thanksgiving holiday.

The scattered ground actions today, a unit of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in a 15-minute firefight 19 miles northwest of Tuy Hoa, on the coast.

A unit of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in an hour-long skirmish 22 miles northwest of coastal Qui Nhon.

Across the country near the Cambodia frontier, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division also reported six enemy killed in a 10-minute scrap 19 miles northwest of the U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Diereng. This area has been the scene of sporadic fighting for two weeks and was hit by a B52 raid Sunday night for the sixth straight day.

The absence of any sizable ground fighting appeared to be another of the periodic lulls which occur in the Viet Nam war. U.S. officers said they saw on connection between the lull and the moves toward Christmas and New Year's truces.

Warren Police, Firemen Irked

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A spokesman for the Warren Police and Firefighters Association said today that demonstrations by the association would begin within the week if the city administration does not agree to a pay raise and a longevity program.

A $100 a month pay increase is asked. If demands are not met, the spokesman said, off-duty policemen and firemen and their families will picket city hall. If the city still does not come to terms, there will be a mass resignation of the spokesman added.

UAW Ends Strike Against Lima Firm

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Members of the United Auto Workers Local 711 voted today to end a six-week strike against the Superior Coach Co. here.

A union spokesman declined to give the vote total but said 81 per cent of those casting ballots approved a tentative agreement worked out at a day-long bargaining session Friday.

The first of an estimated 1,000 employees affected by the strike are to report back to their jobs Tuesday. A company official said first to report would be maintenance men and repairmen. Production workers will be "phased" back into their jobs, he added.

Bombers Pound VC Headquarters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force B52 bombers pounded the suspected central headquarters of the Viet Cong northwest of Saigon today and North Vietnamese army regulars staged a mortar attack on U.S. 4th Division troops in the central highlands. Few shots were fired on the ground elsewhere in the war.

There was no report on the effectiveness of the B52 strike. A U.S. spokesman said the North Vietnamese mortar attack, 18 miles from the Plei Diereng Green Beret camp, caused no U.S. casualties. He said all 25 enemy rounds fell outside the American perimeter.

The U.S. military command reported only three small skirmishes in various sectors and said 18 Viet Cong were killed.

The U.S. Navy had a busy day Sunday, reporting that 7th Fleet destroyers and rocket ships fired more than 1,300 five-inch shells and rockets at targets in South Viet Nam. The targets included supply routes, storage areas and fortified positions, the Navy said.

There was still no word from the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands whether they would order a truce at Christmas and New Year's. The Viet Cong announced Saturday it would stop fighting for 48 hours on the Christmas weekend and for 48 hours over the New Year.

Continued monsoon rains and generally bad weather over North Viet Nam sharply reduced U.S. air raids again Sunday, limiting pilots to 32 missions.

In the scattered ground actions today, a unit of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in a 15-minute firefight 19 miles northwest of Tuy Hoa, on the coast.

A unit of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in an hour-long skirmish 22 miles northwest of coastal Qui Nhon.

Wife Attacker Commits Suicide

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Arthur Pollock Jr., 33, sought since the shooting and wounding of his wife Saturday, took his own life in a garage at Camden, 30 miles southwest of here, early today.

Sheriff John Stover Sr., of Preble County, said Pollock shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber pistol moments before Stover and Deputy Sheriff Larry Howell entered the garage.

Pollock's estranged wife, Constance, 31, shot five times, remains in critical condition in a hospital here.

GOP Leaders Hold Key to Viet Policies

Foreign Relations Panel Could Be Divided Equally

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hold the cards which could divide the influential Senate Foreign Relations committee equally between critics and supporters of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies in the new Congress.

Their Senate ranks increased by three in the Nov. 8 election, Republican leaders are expected to demand greater party representation on foreign relations and other important committees.

Democrats now outnumber the GOP 13 to 6 on the Foreign Relations group headed by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark. Under the new party division of 64 to 36, the Democrats would be entitled to only 12 members.

There are no vacancies on Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have a way of compromising such matters.

An increase in membership to add one more Republican could open the way under the seniority system for Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a former ambassador to India, to claim the new spot if he chooses to do so. Most of the GOP member who outrank Cooper in length of Senate service seem already set with the committee of their choices.

As the committee now stands, it has 10 members who have given general support to Johnson's Viet Nam course and 9 who have been critical at times of the President's actions. Cooper falls in the latter category.

Brandt Upset By Criticism Of Kiesinger

BONN, Germany (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said today he is concerned about foreign criticism of Kurt George Kiesinger, the Christian Democratic candidate for chancellor. The criticism has been based largely on Kiesinger's Nazi past.

Brandt's Social Democratic party has agreed in principle to go into a "grand coalition" under Kiesinger and Brandt is expected to take an important post.

"I am concerned about the echo from abroad," he said when asked about Kiesinger in an interview. "But there have also been some strongly exaggerated statements and I very much hope that in the foreseeable future this question will be regarded in a more sober way."

Brandt was originally quoted by a pro-Socialist press service as saying he was "not too concerned." The service later issued a correction reversing the sense of the quotation.

He praised Kiesinger as "ready and able for objective cooperation, with honest intentions."

Women Past 21 With Bladder Irritation

After 21, common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondarily, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backaches and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at drugstore. Feel better fast.

Youngstown's Teachers Back In Classrooms

Faculty Members, Board Agree on Bargaining Vote

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Classes were resumed for public school pupils here today as striking members of the Youngstown Federation of Teachers returned to the classrooms following an agreement for a collective bargaining election in 1968.

The election will be conducted by the American Arbitration Association and will determine whether the teachers federation or the Youngstown Education Association represents classroom teachers.

The education association's contract as bargaining agent for the teachers expires in 1968.

An agreement reached Saturday with school Supt. Dr. J. H. Wanamaker was approved by the Federation Sunday night by a vote of 238-2. The executive board of the Youngstown Education Association later approved the agreement.

A key point won by the federation, which struck last Monday, was that administrative personnel are not to vote in the election, only classroom teachers. Administrators will vote separately.

The strike affected 28,000 students in the city's 46 schools who will have to make up three days of classes missed last week. Thanksgiving Day and Friday were regular holidays.

The Youngstown Education Association claims to represent 950 teachers, including supervisory personnel. The federation says it represents the rest of about 1,400 teachers.

Meanwhile, a teachers' strike is still on in nearby Hubbard and affects 3,700 students in four schools. No action has been taken on attempts to get a restraining order against the Hubbard Federation of Teachers, which also struck last Monday.

The Hubbard federation walked out over the collective bargaining issue and demands for a 10 per cent pay increase.

A federation spokesman said no progress toward a settlement was made in a bargaining session which ended at 3 a.m. today. Pickets returned to the four Hubbard schools following the Thanksgiving holiday.

country, and some snow and freezing in the northern states. The National Safety Council reports that 49,000 persons died in traffic accidents last year. The count through September of this year reached 38,190 — about 20 per cent more than for the first nine months of 1965.

This year the nation has about 95 million drivers, and they are expected to travel considerably more than the 880 billion traffic miles estimated last year.

The safety council says the Thanksgiving period is not usually regarded as a heavy traffic period. But it pointed out that at the beginning of the Thanksgiving weekend roads were dry and temperatures mild through much of the nation.

Ohio's traffic death toll for the Thanksgiving period exceeded the official prediction of 32 but fell short of the 37 lives lost during the same holiday last year.

The toll, as reported to The Associated Press for the period 6 p.m. Wednesday-midnight Sunday, was at least 33, just four under last year's.

Of the dead, seven were pedestrians. There were at least three accidents that claimed two lives.

The toll for other holiday periods this year: New Year's 46, Memorial Day 15, Fourth of July 33, Labor Day 38.

Vending Machine Money Removed

A soap dispensing machine was forced and money in its coin box removed early today. The theft, at the Duds and Suds Laundry on E. Franklin St., was discovered by city police. Richard Smith, owner, estimated about $6 was in the machine.

Bombers Pound VC Headquarters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers pounded the suspected central headquarters of the Viet Cong northwest of Saigon today and North Vietnamese army regulars staged a mortar attack on U.S. 4th Division troops in the central highlands. Few shots were fired on the ground elsewhere in the war.

There was no report on the effectiveness of the B52 strike. A U.S. spokesman said the North Vietnamese mortar attack, 18 miles from the Plei Djereng Green Beret camp, caused no U.S. casualties. He said all 25 enemy rounds fell outside the American perimeter.

The U.S. military command reported only three small skirmishes in various sectors and said 18 Viet Cong were killed.

The U.S. Navy had a busy day Sunday, reporting that 7th Fleet destroyers and rocket ships fired more than 1,300 five-inch shells and rockets at targets in South Viet Nam. The targets included supply routes, storage areas and fortified positions, the Navy said.

There was still no word from the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands whether they would order a truce at Christmas and New Year's. The Viet Cong announced Saturday it would stop fighting for 48 hours on the Christmas weekend and for 48 hours over the New Year.

Continued monsoon rains and generally bad weather over North Viet Nam sharply reduced U.S. air raids again Sunday, limiting pilots to 32 missions.

In the scattered ground actions today, a unit of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in a 15-minute firefight 19 miles northwest of Tuy Hoa, on the coast.

A unit of the 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in an hour-long skirmish 22 miles northwest of coastal Qui Nhon.

Across the country near the Cambodia frontier, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division also reported six enemy killed in a 10-minute scrap 19 miles northwest of the U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Djereng. This area has been the scene of sporadic fighting for two weeks and was hit by a B52 raid Sunday night for the sixth straight day.

The absence of any sizable ground fighting appeared to be another of the periodic lulls which occur in the Viet Nam war. U.S. officers said they saw on connection between the lull and the moves toward Christmas and New Year's truces.

Warren Police, Firemen Irked

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A spokesman for the Warren Police and Firefighters Association said today that demonstrations by the association would begin within the week if the city administration does not agree to a pay raise and a longevity program.

A $100 a month pay increase is asked. If demands are not met, the spokesman said, off-duty policemen and firemen and their families will picket city hall. If the city still does not come to terms, there will be a mass resignation of the spokesman added.

UAW Ends Strike Against Lima Firm

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Members of the United Auto Workers Local 711 voted today to end a six-week strike against the Superior Coach Co. here.

A union spokesman declined to give the vote total but said 81 per cent of those casting ballots approved a tentative agreement worked out at a day-long bargaining session Friday.

The first of an estimated 1,000 employees affected by the strike are to report back to their jobs Tuesday. A company official said first to report would be maintenance men and repairmen. Production workers will be "phased" back into their jobs, he added.

U.S. headquarters reported no American casualties in the three light contacts Monday, nor were any U.S. losses reported in a series of small fights Sunday by units of the 25th Infantry Division. The infantrymen, operating 20 to 29 miles northwest of Saigon, reported killing 11 Viet Cong.

Mariner 4 Marks 2nd Anniversary

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two years in space were marked today by America's ancient mariner, Mariner 4, as the spacecraft swung in orbit around the sun.

The 575-pound spacecraft that photographed the mysterious red planet is still in contact with earth although 205 million miles away.

"It reports its condition to earth three times a week," a spokesman for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said, "although its voice is kind of weak."

The power of the craft's 10-watt transmitter dwindles to one billionth of one billionth of a watt by the time the voice reaches earth, the spokesman said.

Mariner 4 has traveled more than a billion miles since launch Nov. 28, 1964.

After passing Mars 6,118 miles above its surface, Mariner 4 radioed back 22 pictures of the crater-pocked crust — largely dashing ideas that intelligent beings may live there.

Wife Attacker Commits Suicide

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Pollock Jr., 33, sought since the shooting and wounding of his wife Saturday, took his own life in a garage at Camden, 30 miles southwest of here, early today.

Sheriff John Stover Sr., of Preble County, said Pollock shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber pistol moments before Stover and Deputy Sheriff Larry Howell entered the garage.

Pollock's estranged wife, Constance, 31, shot five times, remains in critical condition in a hospital here.

GOP Leaders Hold Key to Viet Policies

Foreign Relations Panel Could Be Divided Equally

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hold the cards which could divide the influential Senate Foreign Relations committee equally between critics and supporters of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies in the new Congress.

Their Senate ranks increased by three in the Nov. 8 election, Republican leaders are expected to demand greater party representation on foreign relations and other important committees.

Democrats now outnumber the GOP 13 to 6 on the Foreign Relations group headed by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark. Under the new party division of 64 to 36, the Democrats would be entitled to only 12 members.

There are no vacancies on Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have a way of compromising such matters.

An increase in membership to add one more Republican could open the way under the seniority system for Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a former ambassador to India, to claim the new spot if he chooses to do so. Most of the GOP member who outrank Cooper in length of Senate service seem already set with the committee of their choices.

As the committee now stands, it has 10 members who have given general support to Johnson's Viet Nam course and 9 who have been critical at times of the President's actions. Cooper falls in the latter category.

Brandt Upset By Criticism Of Kiesinger

BONN, Germany (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said today he is concerned about foreign criticism of Kurt George Kiesinger, the Christian Democratic candidate for chancellor. The criticism has been based largely on Kiesinger's Nazi past.

Brandt's Social Democratic party has agreed in principle to go into a "grand coalition" under Kiesinger and Brandt is expected to take an important post.

"I am concerned about the echo from abroad," he said when asked about Kiesinger in an interview. "But there have also been some strongly exaggerated statements and I very much hope that in the foreseeable future this question will be regarded in a more sober way."

Brandt was originally quoted by a pro-Socialist press service as saying he was "not too concerned." The service later issued a correction reversing the sense of the quotation.

He praised Kiesinger as "ready and able for objective cooperation, with honest intentions."

GOP Workers Due For Recognition

Mysterious Kidney Disease Plagues Rural Yugoslavians

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Twenty-five per cent of the rural population of Yugoslavia, Romania and Bulgaria suffers from a mysterious kidney disease. Its cause is still unknown after four years of research directed by a prominent American doctor.

Despite its wide spread in these three countries, the malady is endemic and almost unknown in any other region.

It strikes the young — teenagers or even children under 10. But its origin is difficult to trace because the symptoms usually do not appear for almost 10 years. As the disease develops, the sufferers become anemic and are greatly weakened. In its advanced stages, the disease often is fatal.

The illness, called only endemic nephropathy — regional kidney disease — has existed for many years. It has become grave in the past decade.

A careful study of the malady was started four years ago at a research center set up in a hospital of the Bosnian town of Bijeljina under Dr. Philip W. Hall of the Cleveland (Ohio) Metropolitan General Hospital.

Since then Hall has spent part of his time at Bijeljina and part at a research center at the Karolinska Institute at Stockholm, Sweden.

"But after all this work," Hall said recently, "we are as much in the dark about the origin of the disease as before."

Evidence so far indicates the malady is not hereditary and that it may be connected in some way with the rivers of the region. Incidence of the disease has been found to be greater among people living in lowlands along the rivers than those in communities on higher land or farther from the streams. But tests of the water have failed to give any clue to either the origin or spread of the ailment.

Hall himself may have narrowly escaped the malady.

"For three weeks," he said, "there was a suggestion of this abnormal pattern in my proteins while I was working here. But it cleared up when I went back to the United States."

NEW YORK (AP) — "Fame Is the Name of the Game" a two-hour motion picture made for initial television broadcast, proved to be very satisfactory viewing in many ways.

The NBC broadcast Saturday night was a bright, slick retreat of one of the most familiar plots in movieland. It was of particular interest inside the industry because it may start a trend now that the supply of old movies is running low. After NBC has shown the million-dollar movie several times, it will be released for theater distribution.

The story line was as old as the talkies: The intrepid, wisecracking star reporter who talks back to his boss, confounds the cops and solves the murder. It was spiced with blackmail, illicit love affairs, fights, gunplay and nightclub scenes, but the clothes, the dialogue and the musical score were modern.

Because it was made for television's small screens, there were plenty of closeups and large, busy scenes were avoided.

The show must be counted a successful experiment. It was not a major motion picture, but it was lively, gay and held one's attention to the end. The real name of the game is entertainment — and this one filled the bill.

ABC's "Scope" which has concentrated for almost a year on the Viet Nam conflict, almost timidly showed excerpts Saturday from an off-Broadway protest play, "Viet Rock," violently anti-war and anti-Viet Nam war particularly.

The scenes from the play seemed amateurish and overemotional, but host Howard K. Smith was so nervously eager to disassociate himself with the whole thing he was almost rude to the young woman who had authored it.

NBC's "Pearl Harbor" documentary Sunday was partly a memoir of the attack and, more importantly, a resume of where we are and what we have done since that day. It was a seriously disquieting summary, touching on matters ranging from nuclear terror to the Beatles, and full of irony and adding up to nothing very exalted except, perhaps the Peace Corps.

It was a seriously disquieting summary, touching on matters ranging from nuclear terror to the Beatles, and full of irony and adding up to nothing very exalted except, perhaps the Peace Corps.

Highway 'Time Bomb'

Now comes the season of alcoholic parties, poor weather, long hours of darkness, and holiday relaxation — which, experience reveals, add up to a large volume of traffic accidents and fatalities.

The National Safety Council's accident statistics on the effects of the customary highball hilarity of the holidays has led it to conclude that all these things place a "time bomb" in traffic lanes.

The safety organization finds that often the lush who drives can be spotted in traffic and avoided by other drivers or removed by police before he causes trouble. But the moderate drinker who never allows himself more than a couple of highballs at a party and who prides himself as being a "careful" driver is a delayed dynamite charge.

Taking to the road he may operate his car properly enough under normal conditions. But let him come face to face with an emergency and he explodes, his irresponsible driving menacing every person on the road.

All this leads to one conclusion. The moderate drinker — if he drives with intoxicants in him — has no more right to regard himself as a careful driver than the lush. The only careful driver is the one who is careful not to drive when he has been indulging.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One of every three babies born today will live to be 80. But science doesn't seem to be speeding up very quickly to the time when nearly everyone will achieve a longevity of 100 to 150 years.

Is your front door becoming obsolete? Studies show that in suburban homes 90 per cent of the traffic is between the garage and a side or back door.

Leprosy, one of the oldest of man's ailments, still remains something of a mystery. Now generally known as Hansen's disease, it affects some 12 million victims throughout the world.

Medical researchers are still uncertain how the disease enters the bodies of those it strikes.

Are you keeping in a drawer as family heirlooms or good luck pieces any old U.S. silver dollars? Well, look for one dated 1804. A coin dealer may pay you several thousand dollars for it.

Liabilities from business failures in 1946 totaled $67,349,000. The total for last year was more than $1.3 billion. The rule of prosperity seems to be, "The more you make, the more others lose."

Quotable notables: "You must learn day by day, year by year, to broaden your horizon. The more things you love, the more you are interested in, the more you enjoy, the more you are indignant about — the more you have left when anything happens." — Ethel Barrymore.

Did you ever hear of Crab Orchard, Petticoat Lane, Bug Tussle, Gobblers Knob, Rabbit Hash and just plain Ordinary? Well they are all place names in Kentucky.

Nature notes: The sluggish opossum, which rarely lives beyond its second birthday, doesn't even open its eyes until it is about 60 days old. The Vinegar River in Colombia is so sour because of seepings from a nearby volcano that fish can't live in it. It's unfair to call amorous middle-aged men wolves — unfair to the wolves, that is. Most wolves are probably more monogamous than most men.

Worth remembering: "The average person probably hasn't stored up enough treasure in heaven to make the down payment on a harp."

The longer the trip, the faster you are likely to drive. A traffic study found that drivers going more than 400 miles travel 7.6 miles an hour faster than those going less than 20 miles.

Folklore: A sore on the tongue tip is a tipoff that you told a lie. Stubbing the left big toe is bad luck, stubbing the right, good luck. If your thumb itches, someone is coming to visit you.

NEW YORK AP — Some big problems hang over the stock market today that have little to do with prices. They involve, instead, the administration of the marketplace itself.

A measure of their size is reflected in the talk of Wall Street, which frequently these days is not about prices and investments but, instead, about matters such as these:

1. The accounting profession's responsibility, and sometimes its failure, to provide shareholders with accurate information.

2. The growing role, perhaps even danger, of increasing institutional ownership and trading of stock.

3. The distribution of information — or the failure to distribute it — so stockholders will have an equal chance of evaluating the worth of a stock.

Viewing these problems in a little more detail:

Accounting — Lawsuits by shareholders are becoming more common, and one large firm has been indicted for fraud in preparing a stockholder report. But there are varying degrees of fraud.

Some certified public accountants have been accused recently of succumbing to corporate pressure to make an annual report look better than it is.

Another problem is the variety of alternatives that can be used in reporting results. Companies with very similar experiences may report figures that vary widely. This, of course, confuses even the experts.

Institutional ownership — The billions of dollars that institutions — funds, insurance companies, trusts, etc. — invest in the market sometimes causes wide price fluctuations and wide concern also.

How many of the 20 million people who are now shareholders can afford the wide price swings that result from institutional buying or selling? The question is getting some serious examination at the highest levels of the financial community.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What causes a postnasal drip and what can be done about it?

The complaint of postnasal drip is probably one of the most frequent ones heard by physicians and specialists of diseases of the ear, nose and throat. It is a rather vague term much like catarrh used to be at the turn of the century. It is vague because it is used by patients to describe a feeling or sensation rather than an actual illness.

During health, the nose, the back of the nose and the pharynx are covered by thin, watery secretions which are helpful as lubricants and prevent the delicate mucus membrane from drying out. These secretions, it must be emphasized, are normal.

Under some circumstances the secretion becomes very profuse or may change into a thick yellow or green discharge. When this happens the chances are great that there is some infection in the nose or in the sinuses.

Allergic noses pour out a great deal of thin fluid. For this condition an antihistamine is beneficial. It is well-known that people with allergic noses are more prone to develop infections on top of the underlying condition.

The irritation of smog in heavily polluted areas, tobacco and dust may be responsible for postnasal drip.

The treatment is directed to the underlying cause when it is found. Allergies can be treated by desensitization and drugs. Sinus infections can be treated by special irrigations and the antibiotics. Tobacco, dust and polluted air must be avoided.

Increasing the humidity in the rooms, especially during the winter, and occasional steam inhalations can bring relief from the all inclusive symptom called postnasal drip.

Is heart failure the same as a heart attack?

Heart failure, cardiac decompensation and heart attacks are confusing terms because they mean special things to the doctor and cannot all be lumped into one special meaning for patients and their families.

Heart failure simply means that the heart is not able to carry on its normal activity because it is not in the best condition. The heart can be compared to an ordinary pump.

Let us assume that a pump is pushing out ten gallons of water every minute. If the motor went bad and only three gallons of water were being pushed out the pump would be considered to be in poor working order, inadequate or decomposed.

When the heart muscle becomes weakened by a coronary heart attack or when the heart cannot pump out its normal quantity of blood the heart fails. This is heart failure or decompensation.

There are many other causes for heart failure. Many of them can be controlled and permit the patient to carry on perfectly normal activities in moderation. When physical or emotional strain is relieved the overtaxed heart can often be made to work satisfactorily and to regain its efficiency.

Accidental falls from open windows are responsible for more than 500 fatalities each year. Simple, special precautions become lifesavers.

Mythical Observation

By John Chamberlain

The Foreign Minister of Ruritania was laughing up his sleeve. "It's this Red China issue week at the UN," he said. "If there really is a Mao Tse-tung, and not just an effigy that is trotted out on the stage for the benefit of visiting Red Guards, he must be thinking the whole world outside Red China is nuts."

"Here the world is solemnly debating extending him an invitation to join a club when he has not intention whatsoever of accepting. It's not a question of western nations blackballing him, he's already blackballed them. He's told Skull and Bones to go to hell before they've tapped him. True, he has said that he would enter on one condition. That condition is that the capitalist members of the club be expelled once they have provided the majority vote needed to get him in. The black widow spider couldn't have thought up a better one."

"But," so the Foreign Minister of Ruritania continued, "this business of asking someone to kick you in the head in the name of 'universality' is not the most absurd feature of the UN's Red China issue week. It's the behavior of the Soviet Communist bloc that's really something for old Aristotle to ponder. It was only two weeks ago that Mr. Brezhnev, the Russian Communist chief, turned up at an international Communist shindig in Bulgaria to call for excommunicating the Red Chinese from what would be the Comintern if the Communists still had a Comintern. What Brezhnev was saying to his buddies at the Sofia conference was that Mao Tse-tung is not fit to associate with any decent, self-respecting western Marxist. He was telling the world that Mao is a bum, and who needs bums?

"Just a couple of weeks later, however, the Soviet Communist bloc is all for inviting the bum to associate with them in the UN. If you were in Mao Tse-tung's shoes, what would you make of this sort of Humpty Dumpty logic? I'll tell you what Mao makes of it. He's saying to himself that if he isn't good enough to be in a Comintern with the Muscovite and the Prague and the Warsaw Communists, there must be some joker in the deal to get him into the UN with the same gang. He must see that Brezhnev is trying to bait a trap."

"And, of course, this is precisely what the Russians are up to. They haven't been able to handle Mao Tse-tung inside their own movement. But maybe if they could count on U. S. and British and Canadian votes, they could chew him up inside the UN."

"Well, if Mao Tse-tung won't accept those blankety-blank Moscow 'revisionists' on a free-speech-for Marxists basis, why would he want to associate with them in a club that also includes capitalists? He would only want to do it if it promised to give him a winning hand. He knows he's not going to get such a hand in a world organization in which he and the Albanians would be a minority of two."

"There are," so the Foreign Minister of Ruritania mused, "refinements in the idiocies being proposed at the UN. From the United States point of view the proposal to recognize Red China as the sole Chinese government is barbarous. If the Formosa Chinese were to be kicked out of the UN, and the Maoist Chinese installed in their place, it would serve notice to every little nation in Asia that the U. S. has just about as much strength and reliability as a day-old bamboo shoot. Fortunately, the Formosa Chinese seem to have the votes this year to stop the so-called Albanian resolution that calls for their expulsion. But the Italians have come up with something that would be sheer torture for the Formosa Chinese. The Italian idea of forming a committee to 'study' the whole business for a year would almost certainly result in a report recommending a 'two China' solution. And by then the UN would be softened up to the point of voting membership to the 'two Chinas.'

"Neither, of course, would accept. But think how foolish and weak it would make the UN — and the U. S. — feel to be turned down by both Chinas. If this is your idea of good diplomacy, then I'm in the wrong racket as a foreign minister."

You Can't Wish Yourself Well!

Many people stay half sick and half well nearly all the time, grunting along and wishing for health.

"If wishes were horses, beggars would ride," as the old saying goes. If you are sick you have to have hope, faith, and above all, a desire to get well — a desire strong enough to make you investigate EVERY possibility.

On the other hand, many people stay sick because they are confused, or become disgusted when everything they try fails to help.

We find the average sufferer has been diagnosed, treated or operated, and steered from specialist to specialist, only to find that as one ailment is patched up, trouble starts somewhere else.

It is discouraging when you spend your time and money in a sincere effort to get well and yet nothing seems to help. Things lose their importance and life becomes miserable!

It is difficult to be a good wife, mother, father, husband, son, daughter, or grandparent when sick and miserable.

While such chronic cases are always a challenge, it is a much greater thrill and gives us more confidence to watch these unfortunate take a new lease on life, once we untangle their scrambled nerve lines, allowing Nature to restore normal function and heal. Thousands of successful case histories on file are proof positive evidence that sick people get well under chiropractic care — many times after other methods fail.

Each week we offer a message of hope to discouraged sick folks by writing about how many regain their health. But chiropractic can't help YOU unless you give it the opportunity.

Does it give you courage to learn that a retired registered nurse, past sixty, recovered from headaches, indigestion, constipation, shoulder bursitis and traces of arthritis that she had been suffering for years.

Perhaps the dramatic and grateful recovery of excruciating pain from a slipped disc and sciatic leg pains experienced by a father in his late thirties will encourage you.

Or, perhaps the rapid recovery of an infant brought to us suffering pitifully from an acute food rash practically all over her tiny body, or maybe the little six and seven year old brother and sister that recovered almost overnight from severe tonsillitis and high temperature will excite you into action.

Chiropractic may be your answer too. But you can't just WISH for it.

The chiropractic profession recommends regular chiropractic care.

NEW YORK AP — Some big problems hang over the stock market today that have little to do with prices. They involve, instead, the administration of the marketplace itself.

A measure of their size is reflected in the talk of Wall Street, which frequently these days is not about prices and investments but, instead, about matters such as these:

1. The accounting profession's responsibility, and sometimes its failure, to provide shareholders with accurate information.

2. The growing role, perhaps even danger, of increasing institutional ownership and trading of stock.

3. The distribution of information — or the failure to distribute it — so stockholders will have an equal chance of evaluating the worth of a stock.

Viewing these problems in a little more detail:

Accounting — Lawsuits by shareholders are becoming more common, and one large firm has been indicted for fraud in preparing a stockholder report. But there are varying degrees of confusion short of fraud.

Some certified public accountants have been accused recently of succumbing to corporate pressure to make an annual report look better than it is.

Another problem is the variety of alternatives that can be used in reporting results. Companies with very similar experiences may report figures that vary widely. This, of course, confuses even the experts.

Institutional ownership — The billions of dollars that institutions — funds, insurance companies, trusts, etc. — invest in the market sometimes causes wide price fluctuations and wide concern also.

How many of the 20 million people who are now shareholders can afford the wide price swings that result from institutional buying or selling? The question is getting some serious examination at the highest levels of the financial community.

Institutional ownership creates another big problem. Since funds often concentrate so much money in the stock of a company they may acquire a dominant financial position. Should they then tell management how to run the company?

Information distribution — This is a subject that increasingly occupies the time of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Large investors, it seems, can receive trading information well ahead of small investors, thus permitting them to act faster. Or, by the very nature of their position, professional investors seek out and obtain information not available to small investors.

The big question here is what constitutes "inside" information: that is, information that should be available only to the officers of a company until the time it is released simultaneously and impartially to the public?

What Brezhnev was saying to his buddies at the Sofia conference was that Mao Tse-tung is not fit to associate with any decent, self-respecting western Marxist. He was telling the world that Mao is a bum, and who needs bums?

"Just a couple of weeks later, however, the Soviet Communist bloc is all for inviting the bum to associate with them in the UN. If you were in Mao Tse-tung's shoes, what would you make of this sort of Humpty Dumpty logic? I'll tell you what Mao makes of it. He's saying to himself that if he isn't good enough to be in a Comintern with the Muscovite and the Prague and the Warsaw Communists, there must be some joker in the deal to get him into the UN with the same gang. He must see that Brezhnev is trying to bait a trap."

"And, of course, this is precisely what the Russians are up to. They haven't been able to handle Mao Tse-tung inside their own movement. But maybe if they could count on U. S. and British and Canadian votes, they could chew him up inside the UN."

"Well, if Mao Tse-tung won't accept those blankety-blank Moscow 'revisionists' on a free-speech-for-Marxists basis, why would he want to associate with them in a club that also includes capitalists? He would only want to do it if it promised to give him a winning hand. He knows he's not going to get such a hand in a world organization in which he and the Albanians would be a minority of two."

"There are," so the Foreign Minister of Ruritania mused, "refinements in the idiosyncrasies proposed at the UN. From the United States point of view the proposal to recognize Red China as the sole Chinese government is barbarous. If the Formosa Chinese were to be kicked out of the UN, and the Maoist Chinese installed in their place, it would serve notice to every little nation in Asia that the U. S. has just about as much strength and reliability as a day-old bamboo shoot. Fortunately, the Formosa Chinese seem to have the votes this year to stop the so-called Albanian resolution that calls for their expulsion. But the Italians have come up with something that would be sheer torture for the Formosa Chinese. The Italian idea of forming a committee to 'study' the whole business for a year would almost certainly result in a report recommending a 'two China' solution. And by then the UN would be softened up to the point of voting membership to the 'two Chinas.'

"Neither, of course, would accept. But think how foolish and weak it would make the UN—and the U.S. — feel to be turned down by both Chinas. If this is your idea of good diplomacy, then I'm in the wrong racket as a foreign minister."

You Can't Wish Yourself Well!

DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH

Chiropractor

Many people stay half sick and half well nearly all the time, grunting along and wishing for health.

"If wishes were horses, beggars would ride," as the old saying goes. If you are sick you have to have hope, faith, and, above all, a desire to get well—a desire strong enough to make you investigate EVERY possibility.

On the other hand, many people stay sick because they are confused, or become disgusted when everything they try fails to help.

We find the average sufferer has been diagnosed, treated or operated, and steered from specialist to specialist, only to find that as one ailment is patched up, trouble starts somewhere else.

It is discouraging when you spend your time and money in a sincere effort to get well and yet nothing seems to help. Things lose their importance and life becomes miserable!

It is difficult to be a good wife, mother, father, husband, son, daughter, or grandparent when sick and miserable.

While such chronic cases are always a challenge, it is a much greater thrill and gives us more confidence to watch these unfortunates take a new lease on life, once we untangle their scrambled nerve lines, allowing Nature to restore normal function and heal. Thousands of successful case histories on file are proof positive evidence that sick people get well under chiropractic care — many times after other methods fail.

Each week we offer a message of hope to discouraged sick folks by writing about how many regain their health. But chiropractic can't help YOU unless you give it the opportunity.

Does it give you courage to learn that a retired registered nurse, past sixty, recovered from headaches, indigestion, constipation, shoulder bursitis and traces of arthritis that she had been suffering for years.

Perhaps the dramatic and grateful recovery of excruciating pain from a slipped disc and sciatic leg pains experienced by a father in his late thirties will encourage you.

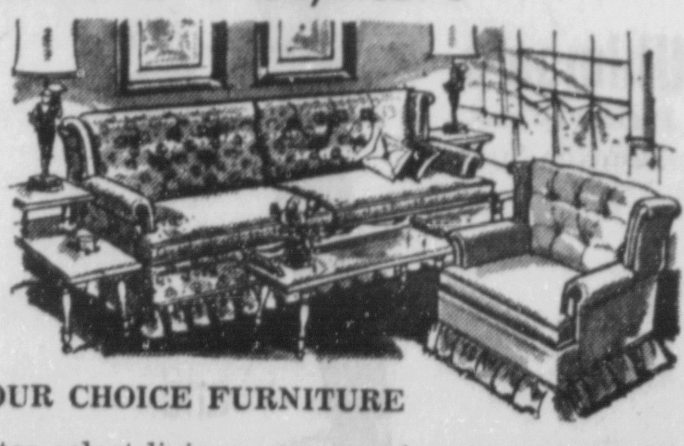

Or, perhaps the rapid recovery of an infant brought to us suffering pitifully from an acute food rash practically all over her tiny body, or maybe the little six and seven year old brother and sister that recovered almost overnight from severe tonsillitis and high temperature will excite you into action.

Chiropractic may be your answer too. But you can't just wish for it.

The chiropractic profession recommends regular chiropractic care.

Jones Herd Recipient of Top Award

Reuben Jones and Sons, Route 4, were one of nine Ohio Holstein breeders to qualify for a Progressive Breeders Award, the highest recognition attainable by a breeder of registered Holstein cattle.

It was the seventh time the Jones herd has qualified for the honor. The award has been accorded to only 647 breeding establishments.

To qualify, a herd must meet strict requirements in all phases of dairy cattle breeding and management, including production, type improvement, herd health and the development of home bred animals.

The herds of two registered Holstein breeders in the Circleville area have been scored for body type by Merle E. Howard, Haies Corners, Wis., who is staff classifier for the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Reuben Jones and Sons had 40 animals classified. Six were termed "excellent" 16 "very good", and 18 "good plus".

David C. Berry had 33 animals classified with one rating "very good", three "good plus" and 16 "good".

Classification has been in continuous operation since 1929 as the official type program of the Holstein breed. It measures the physical conformation of individual animals against the theoretical perfection of the true type cow.

Poll Gives Romney Edge over Nixon

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A Gallup poll says Michigan's Gov. George Romney has passed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the top choice for Republican presidential candidate in 1968.

The poll, taken the week after Nov. 8 elections and released Sunday, shows Romney the favorite of 39 per cent of Republicans and 34 per cent of independents.

Nixon, choice of 34 per cent of Republicans in the poll last year, was selected this month by 31 per cent of the Republicans and 22 per cent of the independents.

Murder-Suicide On Anniversary

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Coroner M.W. Bennett has ruled murder-suicide in the deaths of a couple who rented a motel room to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Caldwell Adams, 46, Harnett County farmer, and his wife, Russell 45, were found shot to death Saturday. Bennett said Mrs. Adams shot her sleeping husband with a .25 caliber pistol and then fired two shots into her chest.

The Adams went to the motel Friday night and asked for the motel room because they were observing their wedding anniversary.

Bleak Village Given Boost By Rockets

ROME (AP) — A village in a central Sardinian mountainland so bleak it doesn't even have bandits has become a modern small town — thanks to modern rocketry and missiles.

The village's improbable name of Perdasdefogu may have been an omen. In Sard dialect it means "lost fire."

Ten years after the remote hamlet was chosen as the site for Italy's missile study center, with test launching pads at nearby Alto di Quirra, its 2,000 oldtime residents can hardly recognize the place. Its population has doubled.

The influx of new residents working at the center has made the old water system inadequate. A new aqueduct is planned and a new road will link the growing village to Cagliari in the south and Nuoro to the north.

The town is fast growing away from one of the main reasons it was selected. The region was so remote that there were almost no dwellings in the barren hills nearby that might be endangered if missiles misfired or went out of control. Now building is booming.

Classification has been in continuous operation since 1929 as the official type program of the Holstein breed. It measures the physical conformation of individual animals against the theoretical perfection of the true type cow.

GE Jet Plant Explosion Under Probe

CINCINNATI (AP) — An explosion at the large General Electric Co. jet engine plant that injured 17 workmen late Saturday was the subject of a full-scale investigation today.

A GE spokesman said investigators would try to determine whether the explosion—the second at the plant within a month—had been caused deliberately.

The explosion and ensuing flash fire caused heavy damage to an area where parts of J-79 engines used in fighter planes are covered with a special coating. The blast occurred at the time of a shift change when about 25 workmen were in the area.

Most of the 17 workmen injured suffered only minor burns but three remained hospitalized today. No one was injured in the Oct. 29 blast.

The hospitalized workers were Leroy Brown, 25, Cincinnati, and Jess Walden, 21, Hamilton, both in poor condition at Good Samaritan Hospital and William Clerley, 25, Mount Orab, in serious condition at the General Hospital Burns Institute.

High Altitude Training Gives Competitors an Edge

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Soviet and French athletes may be getting an edge on U.S. competitors in the 1968 Mexico City Olympics by constantly training at high altitudes, says an American physician.

Dr. Roy F. Goddard of Albuquerque, N.M., gave this opinion in an interview at the American Medical Association annual clinical convention Sunday.

"The thin air at Mexico City at 7,300-foot altitudes means performance times will be longer — there probably will be no records set in maximum endurance events such as swimming and running, Goddard said.

"The Olympic Committee has set the limit of four weeks of training in Mexico City prior to the games — but there is no prohibition against training at high altitudes elsewhere between now and then.

"We know that camps have been established in mountainous areas of Russia and France for potential Olympic contestants, and I personally think American athletes would benefit too from a similar program in this country."

Goddard, director of pediatric research at the Lovelace Foundation, Albuquerque, recently made a study showing swimmers in the October 1965 International Sports Week at Mexico City failed to approach their previous records at sea level.

"The body needs time — at least three weeks, and six weeks probably would be better — to adjust to high altitudes, to increase the intake of oxygen and in an atmosphere where less oxygen is available," he said.

"This adjustment period can be reduced with periodic training at high altitude. Athletes who do this will acclimatize more quickly in Mexico City and probably do better in competition."

Miss Jinks, Mr. Jenkins Exchange Wedding Vows

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. JENKINS

Miss Katherine Jinks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Norwood Jinks of Laurelville, was united in marriage to Mr. John J. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jenkins of Tarrilton in the Laurelville First EUB Church.

The Rev. Eugene Emerson performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with two vases of white gladioli, palms and two seven branch candelabra.

Pre-nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Roger Egan, organist and Mrs. Francis Harmon, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de sole satin, made by her mother, for the Sept. 16 event. The fitted bodice was designed with long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The back of the bell-shaped skirt was accented with two floating panels tapering to the hemline. Her shoulder length veil of sheer illusion was held in place by a crown studded with pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a white Bible topped with white roses and mums and knotted satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a necklace and earrings set, a gift from the groom.

Miss Carol Schwartzwalder was the maid of honor. Miss Barbara Jenkins, sister of the groom, and Miss Patricia Jinks, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. All three girls wore beige crepe dresses with empire waists. The bodice and long sleeves were of lace. John Pontius brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Jack Jenkins, brother of the groom, Orman Hartranft, Jay Meyers and Mike Spangler were ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a light blue satin sheath topped by a coat of lace with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a pink two piece dress.

Cardiac Program Featured At Nurses Assn. Meeting

Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, Knollwood Village, was hostess when the Pickaway County Registered and Graduate Nurses Assn. met for an interesting program on cardiac patients.

Dr. Phillip Knies, internist at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, presented a program on heart monitoring and the care of the acutely ill cardiac patient. Dr. Al Shoman, medical resident, showed slides throughout the evening.

Dr. Knies explained the function of the acute cardiac unit, the use of the pacemaker and the "Code Blue" program. This program is designed to give specialized, intensive care to certain types of cardiac patients during the acute phase of their illness. There are 13 types of conditions listed that require admittance to this unit.

Use in the emergency phase of any of these conditions is a mobile "crash cart." It is fully equipped with a resuscitation unit, drugs, heart monitoring unit, electrocardiograph and other equipment that would be needed.

A medical resident, oxygen therapist, surgical resident, anesthesiologist and medical interns make up the "Code Blue" emergency team which remains on constant alert. Dr. Knies also stated that as soon as the patient is able to be moved following emergency treatment, he is transferred to the special cardiac unit.

Dr. Knies said three weeks of intensive training are required for nurses who care for patients in these units. He emphasized the importance of the nursing personnel.

He explained that nurses are so thoroughly prepared for their work they are able to recognize and stop trouble before it happens. He also said that without them, the specialized equipment would be of little value.

Slides were shown explaining the use of the pacemaker and some of the problems encountered in specific cases. A discussion period followed.

Mrs. James Fosnaugh conducted the business session. Guests were Mrs. Curtis Cooper and Mrs. Jerry Leist.

The Civil Defense Committee announced a recent meeting that was held with the local County Civil Defense director, Earl Boyer. It was announced that several items of new equipment have been added to the emergency hospital unit.

Future nurse club advisers at Westfall and Teays Valley High Schools announced that plans are being made for hospital field tours in the near future.

Mrs. Fosnaugh informed members that the school clinic at Logan Elm was the recent recipient of a hospital bed, donated by Berger Hospital.

Volunteers were obtained for the November Well-Child Clinic and plans were made for the annual Christmas gift program for welfare children.

The Christmas party will be held in the guild rooms of Berger Hospital with Mrs. Jack Imiton, Mrs. Robert G. Smith, Mrs. Robert Imboden, Mrs. C. C. Schwarz and Miss Ellen Leist as hostesses. Pastor Carl Zehnert will be the guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by the hostess following the meeting. Assisting were Mrs. Don Crist, Mrs. Aaron Lumpe and Mrs. Charles Walters.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

'Touch Up' Won't Do Much Good

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who admits to being 70, thinks he is quite the Romeo about town. He is always running after some woman. It's harmless to be sure. It couldn't be anything but. Yet, it annoys me.

I am 61, slim, and not bad looking. My husband keeps asking me to touch up his hair. He has lots of it, but it's all white. Would you if you were me? I have enough trouble with him as it is.

SHIRLEY

DEAR SHIRLEY: Tell him he may as well leave the snow on the roof as long as there's no fire in the furnace.

DEAR ABBY: I am an only "child" — if you can call an 18-year-old girl a child. I am also a college freshman, living away from home for the first time. Before I went to college, my parents and I agreed that I should have a certain monthly allowance. I have been living on that allowance and haven't asked for any extra money.

Now I get this letter from my father asking me for an accounting of how I have been spending my money. If I am supposed to be on my own, what's all this bookkeeping jazz about?

ON MY OWN

DEAR ON: The "bookkeeping" jazz is probably the tune your father knows best. It's a parental habit to ask children for an accounting of how their time and money are spent. But you should not have to itemize

Miss Jinks, Mr. Jenkins Exchange Wedding Vows

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. JENKINS

Miss Katherine Jinks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Norwood Jinks of Laurelville, was united in marriage to Mr. John J. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jenkins of Turlington in the Laurelville First EUB Church.

The Rev. Eugene Emerson performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with two vases of white gladioli, palms and two seven branch candelabra.

Pre-nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Roger Egan, organist and Mrs. Francis Harmon, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie satin, made by her mother, for the Sept. 16 event. The fitted bodice was designed with long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The back of the bell-shaped skirt was accented with two floating panels tapering to the hemline. Her shoulder length veil of sheer illusion was held in place by a crown studded with pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a white Bible topped with white roses and mums and knotted satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a necklace and earrings set, a gift from the groom.

Miss Carol Schwartzwalder was the maid of honor. Miss Barbara Jenkins, sister of the groom, and Miss Patricia Jinks, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. All three girls wore beige crepe dresses with empire waists. The bodice and long sleeves were of lace.

John Pontius brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Jack Jenkins, brother of the groom, Orman Hartman, Jay Meyers and Mike Spangler were ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a light blue satin sheath topped by a coat of lace with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a pink two piece dress.

Soloqua Club To Meet Friday

The Soloqua Garden Club will meet noon Friday for a carry-in dinner at the home of Mrs. W. H. Barch, Route 1, Lockbourne.

A gift exchange will be held. Members have been requested to bring food items for the Christmas basket.

Christmas Decoration Plan For Courthouse under Study

If plans set today become a reality, the Pickaway County Courthouse will take on a festive appearance for the Christmas holiday season.

An appeal to make the county government building an attractive location during the holiday period was presented to the Pickaway Commissioners. The solons appeared to be most receptive to the idea.

The commissioners huddled with various department heads and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown in an effort to come up with a decoration program worthy of the season.

The primary objective was to come up with a feasible decorative plan that could be followed, and to arrive at an estimated cost. Work would be concentrated on the outside of the building and surrounding area.

Berger Hospital News

BROWN suggested the effort be coordinated with the downtown decorations, that already have been erected. Those present agreed that an attractive

Parking Lot Occupies Spot Where 493 Fun-Seekers Died

By PETER BREWER

BOSTON (AP)—The site is now a parking lot. No marker is there to tell the tragic story. But some visitors to Boston still want to see the place where the Cocoanut Grove fire claimed 493 lives.

It was a wartime Saturday night 24 years ago today when the fire blazed up at 17 Piedmont St.

The Cocoanut Grove night club near Boston's theater district was jammed with more than 1,000 persons, in a space for about 600. It was a noisy, fun-seeking crowd.

No one is quite sure how the fire started. Something started a chain of fire streaking across the room through decorations.

It took just 13 minutes more to end the lives of hundreds in a chamber seething with fire and lethal gases.

Lights went out as the crowd panicked, stumbling and groping for exits. People jammed both sides of a revolving door as it could not move either way. Others rushed to an exit on the other side of the building and piled up against the door. It swung inward and couldn't be opened against the crush.

Alarms brought 14 fire engine companies, plus ladder trucks, rescue squads, civilian defense men, Red Cross plus 400 sailors and Coast Guard men from Boston bases.

Some survivors got out through one side of a double door tugged open by an employee. A few got out through small windows in toilet rooms. Several got out through dressing room windows to an adjoining roof. One group found safety in the club refrigerator.

Out of the deadly fire came some useful changes.

Doctors learned much in techniques of treating burns.

Boston's building code came under sharp study and became one of the most stringent in the country.

It brought outward swinging doors with panic bars. It brought more awareness of fire hazards.

It produced rules limiting the number of persons in public places.

The investigation that followed the disaster brought indictment to 10 men. Only the owner — Barnett Welansky an attorney — ever went to prison.

Welansky was convicted of conspiring to violate the building laws and was sentenced to 12 to 15 years. He was ill with cancer when he was released after serving 4 years, and died Jan. 27, 1947.

He obviously is pleased with the progress he has made following his operations Nov. 16 for the removal of a throat polyp and the repair of an incisional hernia.

British PM Briefed Today On Rhodesia

LONDON (AP)—Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden returned from Rhodesia today and said rebel Prime Minister Ian Smith had made "some minor concessions" toward averting a final split between Britain and the breakaway colony.

Bowden would not say whether his meeting with Smith had brought agreement nearer. He went at once to report to Prime Minister Harold Wilson and the Cabinet.

A Cabinet decision that Smith's new proposals offer hope of settlement would open the way for renewed negotiations with Rhodesia whose all-white government declared independence a year ago in an attempt to preserve the rule of the white minority. Otherwise Britain is pledged to ask the U.N. Security Council to vote mandatory sanctions against Smith's regime.

Coolville Victims Buried Sunday

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services were held in Coolville, Athens County, Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Beno Gallaher and two children who perished in a Thanksgiving Day fire with the Gallahers' son, Michael, 19, absent.

The youth has been the object of an intensive but unsuccessful search since the family home at Coolville burned.

Jayne Mansfield To Stay with Son

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield says she will stay at Conejo Valley Hospital until her 6-year-old son — mauled by a lion Saturday — is out of danger.

"He asked me for a snake and a kangaroo rat," Miss Mansfield, 32, said Sunday. "That shows that he can get his mind off his injuries."

Zoltan, her son by her former husband, Mickey Hargitay, a movie strongman, was bitten in the neck and back of the head when he tried to pet a chained lion.

Hospital officials said Zoltan was in fair condition a day after emergency surgery. No further surgery is planned they said.

Newark Area Seeks New Radio Station

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Establishment of a radio station in Licking County is the aim of Central Ohio Broadcasting Co., newly incorporated here, according to attorney George W. Gross, statutory agent.

Gross said market surveys indicate the Newark area, with one station in existence, might support another broadcasting outlet. He said the corporation will apply to the Federal Communications Commission for an operating license.

Christmas Decoration Plan For Courthouse under Study

If plans set today become a reality, the Pickaway County Courthouse will take on a festive appearance for the Christmas holiday season.

An appeal to make the county government building an attractive location during the holiday period was presented to the Pickaway Commissioners. The solons appeared to be most receptive to the idea.

The commissioners huddled with various department heads and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown in an effort to come up with a decoration program worthy of the season.

The primary objective was to come up with a feasible decorative plan that could be followed, and to arrive at an estimated cost. Work would be concentrated on the outside of the building and surrounding area.

BROWN suggested the effort be coordinated with the downtown decorations that already have been erected. Those present agreed that an attractive theme at the Courthouse would be in keeping with the always colorful display in the business district.

Decorations inside the Courthouse normally are handled by individual offices and departments. Many of the themes have received wide acclaim in the past.

The commissioners indicated they would assist the decoration program in every way possible.

In other business, the county fathers corrected a published report last week which listed the price of kennel dog licenses at $5 for five dogs. The figure should have read $10 for a kennel of five.

Parking Lot Occupies Spot Where 493 Fun-Seekers Died

By PETER BREWER

BOSTON (AP) — The site is now a parking lot. No marker is there to tell the tragic story. But some visitors to Boston still want to see the place where the Cocoanut Grove fire claimed 493 lives.

It was a wartime Saturday night 24 years ago today when the fire blazed up at 17 Piedmont St.

The Cocoanut Grove night club near Boston's theater district was jammed with more than 1,000 persons, in a space for about 600. It was a noisy, fun-seeking crowd.

No one is quite sure how the fire started. Something started a chain of fire streaking across the room through decorations.

It took just 13 minutes more to end the lives of hundreds in a chamber seething with fire and lethal gases.

Lights went out as the crowd panicked, stumbling and groping for exits. People jammed both sides of a revolving door as it could not move either way. Others rushed to an exit on the other side of the building and piled up against the door. It swung inward and couldn't be opened against the crush.

Alarms brought 14 fire engine companies, plus ladder trucks, rescue squads, civilian defense men, Red Cross plus 400 sailors and Coast Guard men from Boston bases.

Some survivors got out through one side of a double door tugged open by an employee. A few got out through small windows in toilet rooms. Several got out through dressing room windows to an adjoining roof. One group found safety in the club refrigerator.

Out of the deadly fire came some useful changes.

Doctors learned much in techniques of treating burns. Boston's building code came under sharp study and became one of the most stringent in the country.

It brought outward swinging doors with panic bars. It brought more awareness of fire hazards.

It produced rules limiting the number of persons in public places.

British PM Briefed Today On Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden returned from Rhodesia today and said rebel Prime Minister Ian Smith had made "some minor concessions" toward averting a final split between Britain and the breakaway colony.

Bowden would not say whether his meeting with Smith had brought agreement nearer. He went at once to report to Prime Minister Harold Wilson and the Cabinet.

A Cabinet decision that Smith's new proposals offer hope of settlement would open the way for renewed negotiations with Rhodesia whose all-white government declared independence a year ago in an attempt to preserve the rule of the white minority. Otherwise Britain is pledged to ask the U.N. Security Council to vote mandatory sanctions against Smith's regime.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — In less than 35 years mainland China has moved from a dilapidated, medieval condition, complete with war lords, to one of the great powers of the earth, but with a difference.

It is unified but only to the extent that it is controlled by one organization the Communist party, and one group of chieftains, the party leaders under the thumb of the father of it all, Mao Tse-tung.

But it is so ripped by internal dissension that it looks like a nation on the fringe of lunacy, acting out a fantasy.

Despite all the interpretations of Red China's troubles, much if not most are basically guesswork which tries to patch fragments of information together about a nation where few outsiders are privy to Red China's insiders.

But even the rest of the Communist world seems stupefied by the antics of the Red Chinese leadership and over the weekend the Soviet Union called on the Chinese to put a curb on Mao.

Under him China has had one disaster after another in foreign relations, climaxed by their break with the Soviet Union, one-time partner and biggest neighbor.

What seems to have happened is this: Mao failed to rivet control; or at 72 he got careless about it; or some of his top lieutenants, anxious about the future of the country or hungry for power of their own, began to plot or disagree among themselves on the succession to Mao when he dies or fades; or Mao, inflexible to change, sticks to a vision of China which seems outdated to his underlings.

Whatever the cause of what's happening now, the result is chaos: He has mustered to his support millions of Chinese youths who, under the badge of the "Red Guard," have tried by violence and numbers to terrorize the nation into a docile obedience to Mao.

Since the army has not interfered yet, it can be assumed that, whatever his reason for what has happened, Mao still has the backing of the military. But that can change fast. Meanwhile, so the youths could perform, schools have been closed, factories idled, railroads tied in knots.

When a dictator has to depend on youngsters by the millions to chant his slogans as a symbol of unity the picture is one of revolution by irresponsibility, even of childishness. This isn't the way he won his power. He didn't conquer China with children.

By James Marlow

With this spectacle in front of them, the members of the United Nations in New York are busy wrestling with proposals about letting Red China have a U.N. membership which the United States has managed to frustrate for 16 years and seems most likely able to frustrate this year again.

The General Assembly is to vote on a proposal for a year's study of what to do with China's U.N. seat, still occupied by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa.

There have been proposals to replace Nationalist China with Red China in the United Nations. One of the proposals lost in a close vote last year. The idea is expected to lose again this year.

On the other hand the assembly will probably approve a move — sponsored by the United States successfully last year and now once again — to require a two-thirds vote to change China's representation in the United Nations.

Such a two-thirds vote, of course, is harder to get than a simple majority vote, which is the obvious reason why the United States supports it. If the world had to vote on the biggest mess of 1966 it would have to be Red China.

Increased War Demand For Steel Is Reported

CLEVELAND (AP) — Consistently rising expenditures for national defense and continued escalation of the Viet Nam war point to an increased demand for steel in these fields, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said national defense expenditures, rising steadily for 1½ years, pushed to an annual rate of $61.3 billion last quarter. "You can expect another gain in the current quarter," Steel said.

The magazine said most experts agree that the annual rate will increase by $2.5 billion a quarter in 1967.

Steel said 1.4 million net tons of mill products, about five per cent of mill shipments, must be available for defense this quarter.

But defense usages of steel can be only roughly estimated because in many instances metalworking plants do not have to obtain steel priorities, the magazine said.

Despite the offsetting effect

no defense and war needs, consumption by the construction and automotive industries, the two top users of steel, continues to decline, Steel said.

Also, the magazine said, consumers are reducing inventories because of the availability of steel and tight money; some state taxes discourage large year-end stocks and consumption and production of metal products will slump seasonally at Christmas.

The result, Steel said, is that December will not be a robust steel month. It wasn't expected to be, the magazine added.

Steel estimated last week's in-got production at 2,565,000 net tons, unchanged from the week before. Week-to-week output has varied only 19,000 tons this month, it said.

Output remained steady in the Cleveland, Youngstown and Cincinnati areas and showed a slight drop in Pittsburgh.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap remained at $28.67 a gross ton for the fourth straight week.

Ohio May Get $36 Million For Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's share of the $1,053,410,000 allocation to aid educationally deprived children in low-income areas could be approximately $36 million state school officials said today.

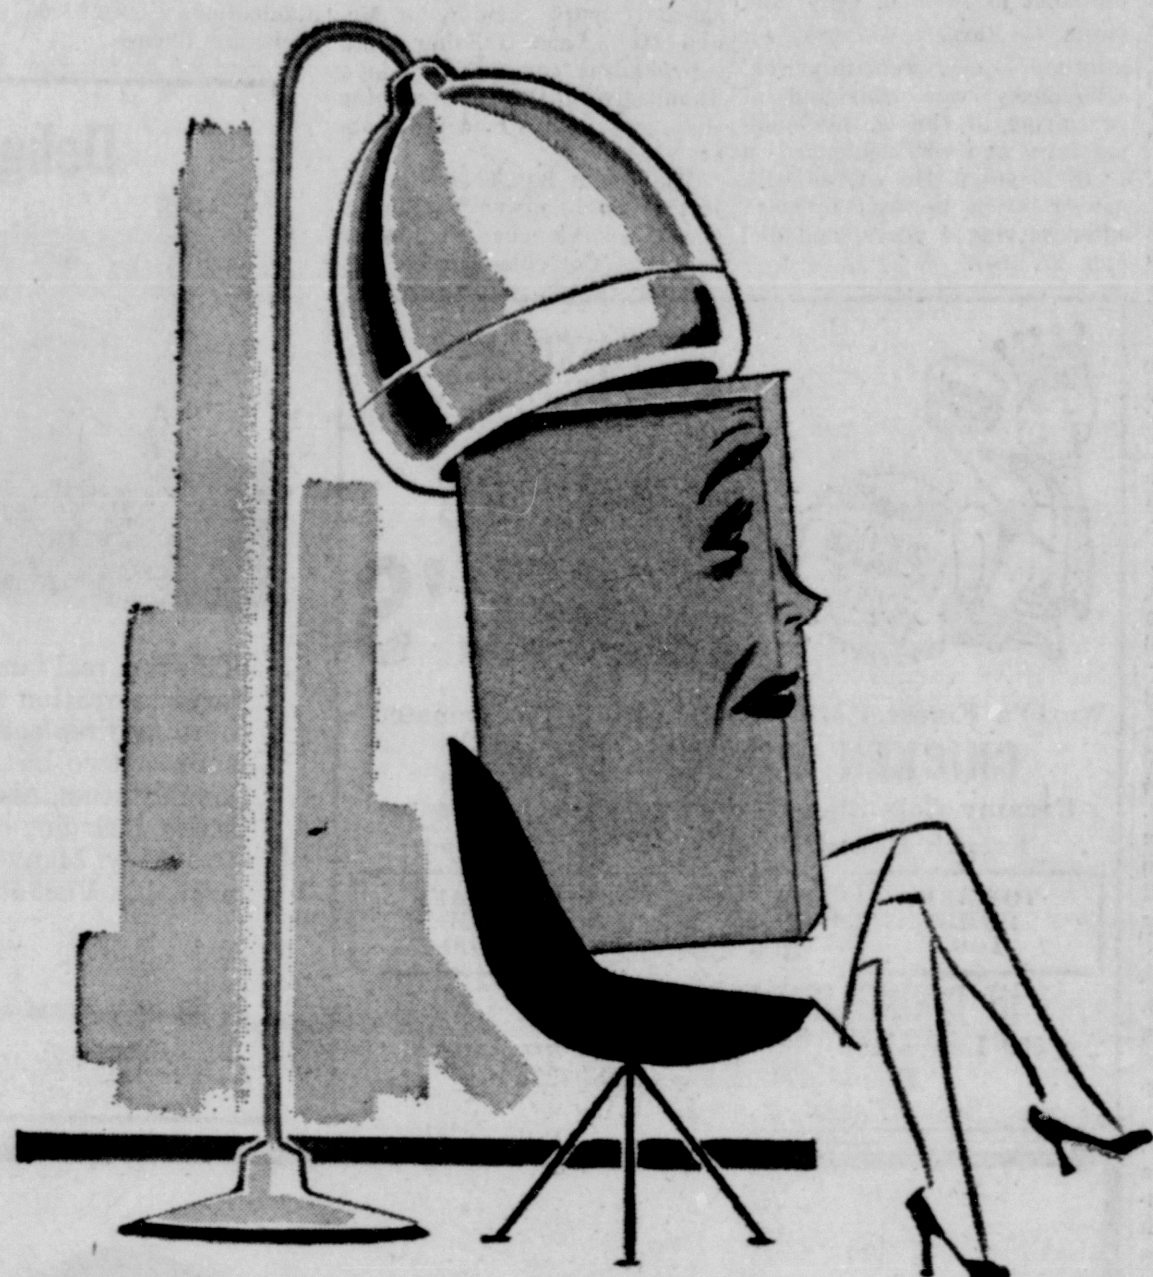

President Johnson Friday approved the allocation under a program set up under the Elementary and Secondary School Act. The allocation is an increase of $85 million over last year.

Ohio Department of Education officials said that the preliminary estimate of Ohio's allocation came from data mailed by the federal education officials last week.

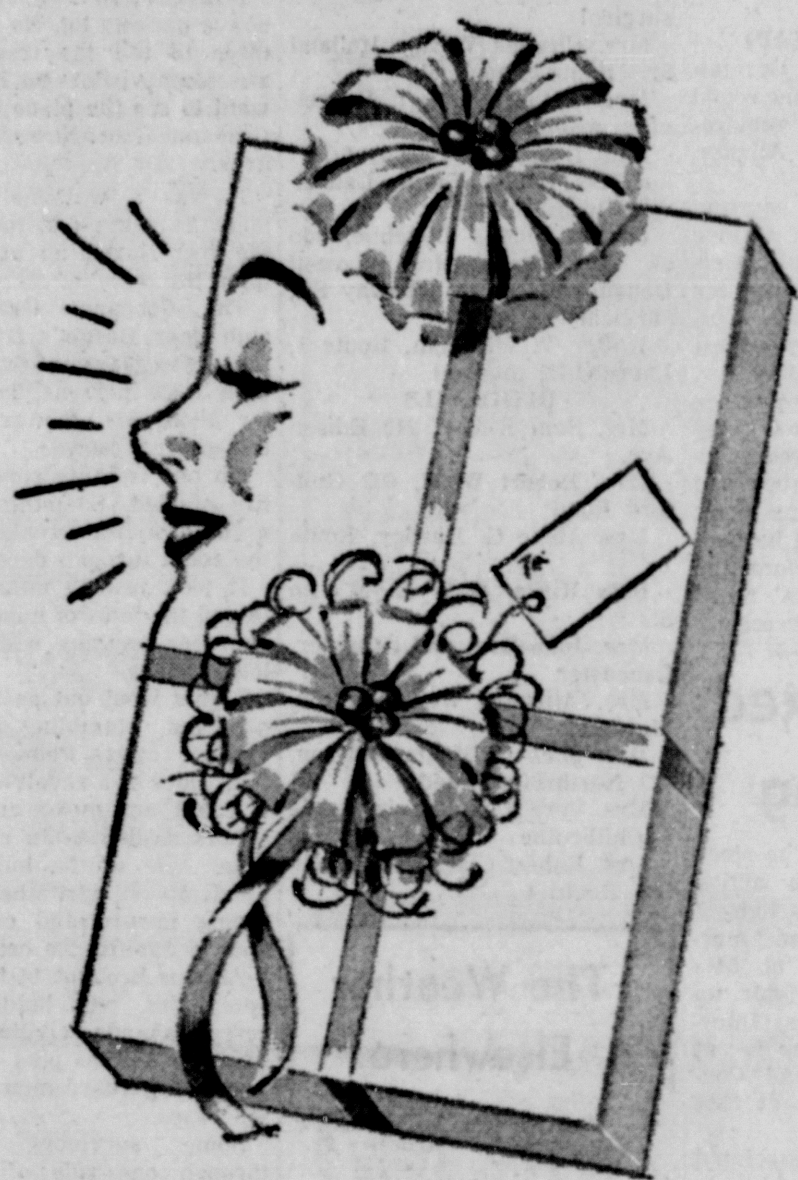

However, they pointed out the Ohio figure is only a tentative one pending determination of the state's expenditures last year and other factors which could change the estimated figure.

Increased War Demand For Steel Is Reported

CLEVELAND (AP) — Consistently rising expenditures for national defense and continued escalation of the Viet Nam war point to an increased demand for steel in these fields, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said national defense expenditures, rising steadily for 1½ years, pushed to an annual rate of $81.3 billion last quarter. "You can expect another gain in the current quarter," Steel said.

The magazine said most experts agree that the annual rate will increase by $2.5 billion a quarter in 1967.

Steel said 1.4 million net tons of mill products, about five per cent of mill shipments, must be available for defense this quarter.

But defense usages of steel can be only roughly estimated because in many instances metalworking plants do not have to obtain steel priorities, the magazine said.

Despite the offsetting effect

no defense and war needs, consumption by the construction and automotive industries, the two top users of steel, continues to decline, Steel said.

Also, the magazine said, consumers are reducing inventories because of the availability of steel and tight money; some state taxes discourage large year-end stocks and consumption and production of metal products will slump seasonally at Christmas.

The result, Steel said, is that December will not be a robust steel month. It wasn't expected to be, the magazine added.

Steel estimated last week's ingot production at 2,563,000 net tons, unchanged from the week before. Week-to-week output has varied only 19,000 tons this month, it said.

Output remained steady in the Cleveland, Youngstown and Cincinnati areas and showed a slight drop in Pittsburgh.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap remained at $28.67 a gross ton for the fourth straight week.

Ohio May Get $36 Million For Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's share of the $1,033,410,000 allocation to aid educationally deprived children in low-income areas could be approximately $36 million state school officials said today.

President Johnson Friday approved the allocation under a program set up under the Elementary and Secondary School Act. The allocation is an increase of $95 million over last year.

Ohio Department of Education officials said that the preliminary estimate of Ohio's allocation came from data mailed by the federal education officials last week.

However, they pointed out the Ohio figure is only a tentative one pending determination of the state's expenditures last year and other factors which could change the estimated figure.

Circleville Cagers Victims of Own Errors in 67-63 Loss to Cavaliers

By STEVE JONES

Fighting a come from behind battle most of the way, Circleville lost to visiting Chillicothe, 67-63, Saturday in the Mill St. gymnasium.

"They outshot us and our own mistakes beat us," CHS cage mentor Chuck Hill said after the game. "Too many times we couldn't get the ball down the floor. We even had trouble getting in bounds some times."

In the first quarter, the Tigers committed seven turnovers as the Cavaliers moved out to 16-7 lead at one point. Tim Stonerock's three-point play just before the quarter ended made the score 16-10.

In the second quarter, Circleville cut down on errors and began to get more of the rebounds. Just before the half came to a close, Jeff Steele tipped in the bucket that gave the Red and Black cagers a 32-31 lead.

IN THE last minutes of the second quarter, Circleville outscored the visitors, 18-6. But that was the only time the locals held an advantage in scoring over the Cavaliers.

Right after the third period started, Chillicothe pulled ahead again on a bucket by Mike Tackett. Stonerock put Circleville ahead for the last time when he countered with a layup.

Dick Seekatz tied the score with a foul shot. Damon Welch put the Cavaliers ahead for

CHS Reserves Nipped, 32-31

The Circleville reserves dropped a thrilling 32-31 decision Saturday night to visiting Chillicothe.

Trailing 11-4 after the first period, Circleville battled back and the Tigers were behind on two points at halftime, 15-13.

Both teams scored five points in the third period. With 1:20 to go, Dave Horst canned both ends of the one- and one-foul situation to put the little Tigers ahead for the first time, 31-30.

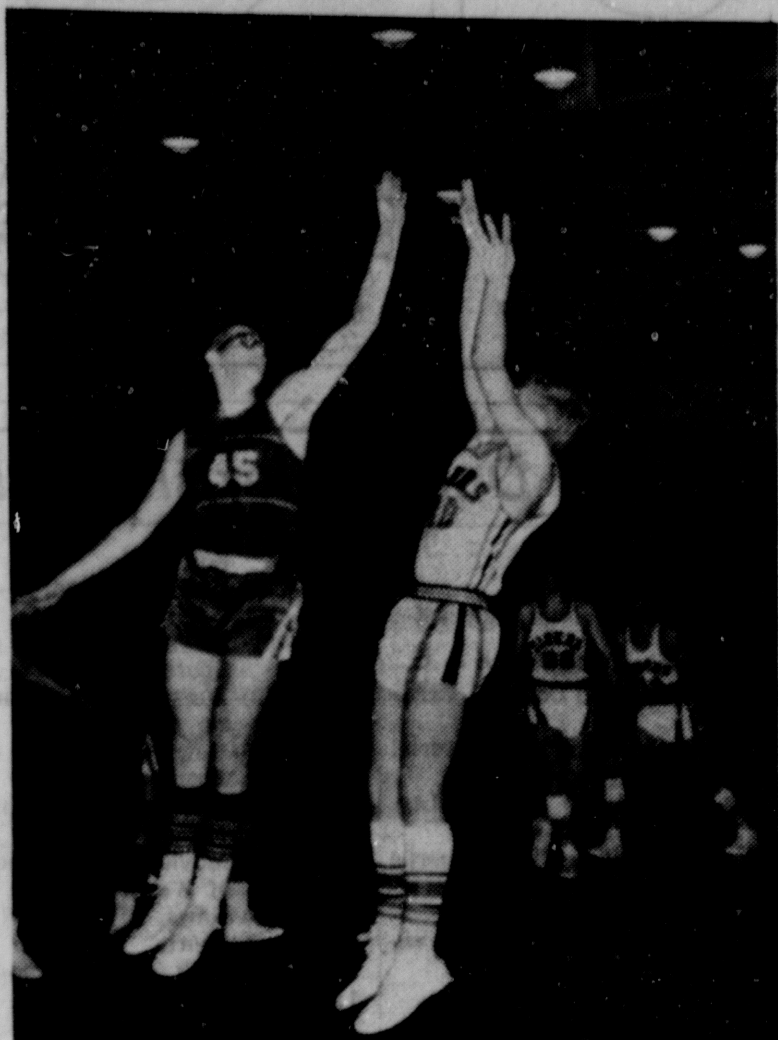

But with 53 seconds remaining, the visitors scored the deadlocking and winning points on two foul shots.

Leading scorer for Circleville was Horst with 10 points on three field goals and four foul shots. Phil Diehl and Frankie Carter had six each for the losers.

good seconds later with a bucket.

As the final period started, Circleville trailed 53-46. Twice in the last three minutes the Tigers pulled within three points, first when Stonerock made four points in a row on a field goal and two foul shots and later when Joe Winner tossed in a shot from the field to make the score 65-62.

The Tigers got another chance with the ball before Chillicothe scored again. But one of the numerous turnovers occurred at that point.

In an obvious stalling situation, Circleville was forced to foul to get the ball. Welch was the boy who was fouled and he made good on both of his shots to give Chillicothe a 67-62 bulge with just 16 seconds left.

THE TIGERS had several chances in the last seconds, but failed to convert. Danny Gibbs was fouled at the buzzer, but few of the fans in the gymnasium realized the senior southpaw was shooting a foul shot as they poured on the floor. Gibbs missed his first try, but made his second, and the game ended with Circleville losing by four points.

Stonerock emerged the winner in a scoring duel with sharpshooting Mike Tackett of the Cavaliers. The Circleville cager hit nine of 20 shots from the field and made 13 of 17 foul shots for a 31-point total.

Tackett, deadly in the second

GIVING a big boost to Tackett's effort were Welch with 12 points — four came in key situations in the closing minutes of the game — and Paul Francis, burly center who tallied 11, eight of which were in the first quarter.

The Tigers hit 21 of 59 field goal tries and 21 of 28 foul shots. Chillicothe also took 59 shots, but made 26. At the foul line the Cavaliers made 15 of 19 tries.

Big as the Chillicothe team was, with a pair of 6-3 cagers in Francis and Seekatz in the lineup, the Tigers will meet a taller unit Friday when Miami Trace comes to town.

The Panthers, 61-60 winners Saturday over Bishop Ready, always bring a big crowd of faithful fans to the ball game. The encounter will be in the spacious Mill St. plenty of seating capacity.

After that, the playing site will be shifted to the new high school, unless the crowds prove to be too big for the new facility to handle.

Ortiz Favored To Keep Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Flash Elorde, a millionaire fighter from Manila, might reach the end of the boxing line tonight in a second bid for Carlos Ortiz, world lightweight title at Madison Square Garden.

Ortiz, a sharp boxer and a crisp hitter, is a 3-1 favorite over the 31-year-old world junior lightweight (130 pounds) champion from the Philippines in the national television 15-rounder Starting time is 10 p.m. EST.

Frank Robinson Leaves Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, recuperating from a knee operation, leaves for his Los Angeles home today with a detailed list of exercises designed to strengthen his leg.

The slugging outfielder had a cracked cartilage and a piece of bone removed from his right knee last Tuesday. He was discharged from Johns Hopkins HOSPITAL Sunday.

Robinson left the hospital on crutches, which he has been told to use until Dec. 5, unless his knee progresses enough so that they can be discarded.

Westfall Five Stopped, 50-42

The Westfall Mustangs, playing at home Saturday night, lost to Jonathan Alder, 50-42, in a game that was close all the way.

The Jonathan Alder squad led 10-5, 19-12 and 34-31 at the quarter breaks.

Although the Mustangs were never ahead, at one point they knotted the score, 27-27. The deadlock came in the third quarter.

"We played good enough to win but made mistakes at the wrong times," Coach Larry Wilson said of his young squad.

CHARLES PALMER emerged the game's leading scorer, hitting nine of 14 shots from the field and adding two at the foul line for a 22-point total—over half the points scored by the Mustangs.

Ed Cornwell and Tony Lightie, two sophomores, scored six points each. Charles Long tallied eight.

For the winners, Green scored 15 markers on five field goals and five foul shots.

Officials whistled 19 personal fouls against each team.

The Mustangs nearly matched the taller Jonathan Alder five in rebounding, pulling down 24 compared to 36 for the visitors.

From the field, Westfall hit 15 of 77 attempts. At the foul line they converted 12 of 26. In the first half, Westfall missed nine foul shots, seven of them with the one-and-one rule in effect.

THE MUSTANGS had 16 turnovers. Statistics on the visitors showed them with 12 miscues, a 50 per cent shooting rate from the charity stripe and a 38.2 per cent average from the field.

The JA reserves won the preliminary tilt, 44-40. The next action for Westfall comes Saturday when Teays Valley makes a short trip to the Mustang school.

Vikings Lead Throughout In 62-58 Win over Central

Teays Valley jumped to a early lead and never trailed as the Vikings defeated Columbus Central, 62-58, in Saturday night's consolation game of the South Holiday tournament.

South won the tournament by defeating North, 78-67.

In gaining their first win of the season, the Teays Valley cagers scored 19 points in the first quarter, holding Central to 15. In the second, the Vikings built up a 35-29 lead.

Shortly after the third period got under way, Teays Valley was ahead, 44-30. But Central rallied and the score stood at 48-40 when the last eight minutes of action began. Although

Browns' Hopes Get Bad Jolt At St. Louis

CLEVELAND (AP) — Any Cleveland Browns' hopes to get back into the Eastern Conference race received a jolt in St. Louis Sunday when the Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 6-3.

With only three games remaining on the National Football League schedule the Cardinals and Dallas Cowboys are tied for first with 8-2-1 records while the Browns are 7-4.

Jim Bakken's two field goals were enough to beat the Steelers, who had whipped the Cardinals 30-9 two weeks ago. Dallas beat Cleveland on Thanksgiving and both were off Sunday.

The Browns have New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis left to play, with the Giants coming to town next Sunday.

Major League Player Draft Slated Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Chicago Cubs will be batting first when the major league baseball clubs conduct their annual player draft today, and it's just possible that Manager Leo Durocher will be tempted to dip into the Los Angeles Dodgers' organization.

Durocher, a longtime coach with the Dodgers before taking over at Chicago, figures to be well acquainted with the talent that can be drained off the Los Angeles farm clubs, particularly the Spokane team of the Pacific Coast League.

There are at least five players on the Spokane roster who have had shots with the Dodgers and might be what Durocher is looking for — infielders Nate Oliver and Bart Shirley, outfielder Jim Barbieri, pitcher John Purdin and catcher Hector Valle.

Following the Cubs in the draft order will be the New York Yankees, who last year finished in the American League cellar; the New York Mets, Boston, Houston, Washington, Cincinnati, Kansas City, St. Louis, California, Atlanta, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago White Sox, Pittsburgh, Detroit, San Francisco, Minnesota, Los Angeles and Baltimore.

Vandy Coach Quits After Dreary Season

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Jack Green announced his resignation Sunday night as head football coach at Vanderbilt University.

He ended a four-year career at Vanderbilt with a 7-29-4 won-loss-tie record, and finished the current season Saturday with a 28-0 loss to Tennessee, for a 1-9 record this year.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and Le Mans.

You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course.

That's why it'll keep running and running until somebody turns it off. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a 6 like this who needs an 8?

Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in all Tempests and Le Mans. So how can you possibly resist seeing your Pontiac dealer right now?

CHS Reserves Nipped, 32-31

The Circleville reserves dropped a thrilling 32-31 decision Saturday night to visiting Chillicothe.

Trailling 11-4 after the first period, Circleville battled back and the Tigers were behind on two points at halftime, 15-13.

Both teams scored five points in the third period. With 1:20 to go, Dave Horst canned both ends of the one - and - one foul situation to put the little Tigers ahead for the first time, 31-30. But with 53 seconds remaining, the visitors scored the deadlocking and winning points on two foul shots.

Leading scorer for Circleville was Horst with 10 points on three field goals and four foul shots. Phil Diehl and Frankie Carter had six each for the losers.

Circleville
Diehl, 1-4-6; Willis, 2-0-4; Horst, 3-4-10; Dyke, 0-0-0; Carter, 3-0-6; Neal, 1-0-2; Hopkins, 0-3-3. Totals, 10-11-31.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and Le Mans.

You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course.

That's why it'll keep running and running until somebody turns it off. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a 6 like this who needs an 8?

Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in all Tempests and Le Mans. So how can you possibly resist seeing your Pontiac dealer right now?

Four Pioneers Head Scoring in 67-63 Win over Huntington

With four players hitting in double figures, Zane Trace rallied in the final quarter to defeat host school Huntington, 67-63, Saturday in a Ross County League basketball game.

Bob Maxwell headed the Pioneers' winning effort with 22 points on 10 field goals and two charity tosses. In addition to his scoring production, he grabbed 13 rebounds.

Also hitting in double figures were Greg Ebert, 13; Barry Bennett, 12; Gary Kuhn, 14. The game was close all the way. At the end of the first eight minutes, the score was deadlocked. Then the Pioneers forged to a 34-28 halftime lead.

The third stanza saw the winners held to a log dry spell and the Huntsmen fought to a four-point edge, 49-45, as the last quarter started.

The Pioneers rallied in the last canto to gain their second Ross County League win of the season and their third victory in four starts.

Kuhn and Bennett made the important four points in the closing seconds that spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

Kuhn canned a foul shot, and then seconds later Bennett was fouled. He made the first of a one- and one-attempt. Missing the second try he reacted quickly, grabbing his own rebound and laying it in for a three-point play.

The Pioneers shot 57 times and made 29 for a 51 per cent accuracy mark. Huntington connected on 25 of 65 tries for a 37 per cent average.

Huntington won the reserve game, 45-36.

The Pioneers travel to Adena Friday for another Ross County game. They are at The Plains

(Tiger) Ellison sticks the quality label on the 1966 frosh squad he directed while Coach Woody Hayes' varsity stabled to a 4-5 record.

Both the 1965 freshman bunch — of whom seven became varsity starters as sophomores — and the 1966 Ellison group must make big contributions on Saturday afternoon next fall if Hayes is to bounce back from his second losing season in 16 as Buckeye headmaster.

And the ebullient Ellison, never one to hide anybody's light under a bushel when he's impressed, thinks the newcomers have the makings.

Paul Hornung of the Columbus Dispatch, in his annual post-season sizeup of next year's prospects, quotes Ellison:

"We've got six or seven or eight who will definitely help the varsity next year and some more who will help before they get out of here."

Perhaps the top accolades accorded by Ellison go to offensive fullback Paul Huff of Dover and defensive standouts Dave Whitfield of Massillon, Brad Nielsen of Columbus Waterson and Mike Radtke, one of the few out-of-state boys on hand.

"He'll be one whale of a football player!" says the coach of Huff, "wonderful ability, good speed, great power." Huff looked the part of a typical OSU fullback in the freshmen's regulation games against Indiana and Northwestern.

He'll probably challenge sophomore Rudy Smith, impressive against Michigan, for the No. 1 role.

"Great player!" Ellison describes Whitfield, only a 175-pounder.

"They won't keep him out of there," he says of the 215-pound Nielsen who figures to put on another 10 or 15 pounds.

Whitfield probably will replace Jim Baas at defensive end and Nielsen will move in for Gary Miller at tackle now that Baas and Miller have completed their collegiate careers and members of a very respectable defensive unit.

"Radtke is another Mark Stier," Ellison continues, signing the praises of a prospect who may move in with Stier — sophomore of the year — at a linebacking position.

Other offensive unit freshmen ticketed for 1967 varsity action include halfback Dave Brungar 185-pound all-stater from Youngstown who's "our fastest man."

Then there are Paul Schmidlin, Toledo 210-pound tackle who captained the frosh squad; 230-pound guard Dwight Fertig of Ravenna; centers Ron Lebarof, 220, Springfield, and Tom Backhus 190 Cincinnati and tackle Charlie Hutchins, 230 Carrollton.

Dale Darnell of Columbus Marion-Franklin and Kevin Rusnak of Wayne N. J., could help returnees Bill Long and Jerry Ehram at quarterback.

Other defensive prospects include Art Burton, Fostoria 180-pounder given a good chance to make regular cornerback; deep backs Ted Provost, Navarre, and Mike Polsaki, Columbus Brookhaven; and tackles Bill Pollitt 210, Navarre and Butch Smith, 215.

More freshmen rating mention are defensive ends Dan Kaser, Sandusky; Dan Asto, Cincinnati; Ted Kurz, Struthers and Arch Haser Canton; backs Ray Gillian Uniontown, Pa.; Bob Trapuzzano, McKees Rocks, Pa. and Jim Otis Celina; guards Al Jack, Wintersville, and Brian Clark, Sandusky and linebacksers Mike Armstrong Springfield, and Bill Hackett, London — son of 1944 OSU All-America Dr. Bill Hackett.

Braves Open Cage Season with Win

Logan Elm's basketball Braves opened their 1966-67 season Saturday with a 66-50 win over visiting Carroll of Fairfield County.

Scoring action started at a comparatively slow pace. The Braves were on top, 8-4, as the first period ended.

With Jim Moorehead providing the scoring punch in the first half, the hosts built their lead to 26-17. Moorehead notched 10 of his 14 markers in the first half.

In the second half, converted center Russ Merrin began to find the mark. The rangy pivot man, a varsity forward the past two seasons, dumped in 10 points during the third period, giving the Braves a 45-32 lead to carry into the fourth canto.

FOR THE game, Merrin was the high scorer with 19 on eight field goals and three foul shots. In addition, he grabbed 20 of the 41 rebounds accumulated by the Braves.

Tcm Smith, back at his familiar guard spot in the Braves' offense, notched 12. The other starters for Logan Elm, included Greg Fraumelter, who had eight points, and Dale Jenne with two.

Mike Helwagen came off the bench for an 8-point scoring spree. Frey had 18 for the losers.

The Braves hit 18 of 25 at the foul line for a 72 per cent rate. From the field, they connected on 24 of 53 tries for a 45 per cent effort.

The Braves committed 19 personal fouls and had 13 turnovers in their season starter.

Carroll hit 20 of 29 at the foul line, 15 of 58 from the field, grabbed 33 rebounds and were charged with 14 turnovers by LE chartkeepers.

IN THE preliminary game, Logan Elm reserves garnered a 34-22 victory to make it a perfect night.

The Braves travel to New Lexington Friday where they will meet perennial cage power St. Aloysius Academy.

(Tiger) Ellison sticks the quality label on the 1966 frosh squad he directed while Coach Woody Hayes' varsity stumbled to a 4-5 record.

Both the 1965 freshman bunch — of whom seven became varsity starters as sophomores — and the 1966 Ellison group must make big contributions on Saturday afternoons next fall if Hayes is to bounce back from his second losing season in 16 as Buckeye headmaster.

And the ebullient Ellison, never one to hide anybody's light under a bushel when he's impressed, thinks the newcomers have the makings.

Paul Hornung of the Columbus Dispatch, in his annual post-season sizeup of next year's prospects, quotes Ellison:

"We've got six or seven or eight who will definitely help the varsity next year and some more who will help before they get out of here."

Perhaps the top accolades accorded by Ellison go to offensive fullback Paul Huff of Dover and defensive standouts Dave Whitfield of Massillon, Brad Nielsen of Columbus Waterson and Mike Radtke, one of the few out-of-state boys on hand.

"He'll be one whale of a football player!" says the coach of Huff, "wonderful ability, good speed, great power." Huff looked the part of a typical OSU fullback in the freshmen's regulation games against Indiana and Northwestern.

He'll probably challenge sophomore Rudy Smith, impressive against Michigan, for the No. 1 role.

"Great player!" Ellison describes Whitfield, only a 175-pounder.

"They won't keep him out of there," he says of the 215-pound Nielsen who figures to put on another 10 or 15 pounds.

Whitfield probably will replace Jim Baas at defensive end and Nielsen will move in for Gary Miller at tackle now that Baas and Miller have completed their collegiate careers and members of a very respectable defensive unit.

"Radtke is another Mark Stier," Ellison continues, signing the praises of a prospect who may move in with Stier — sophomore of the year — at a

Braves Open Cage Season with Win

Logan Elm's basketball Braves opened their 1966-67 season Saturday with a 66-50 win over visiting Carroll of Fairfield County.

Scoring action started at a comparatively slow pace. The Braves were on top, 8-4, as the first period ended.

With Jim Moorehead providing the scoring punch in the first half, the hosts built their lead to 26-17. Moorehead notched 10 of his 14 markers in the first half.

In the second half, converted center Russ Merrin began to find the mark. The rangy pivot man, a varsity forward the past two seasons, dumped in 10 points during the third period, giving the Braves a 45-32 lead to carry into the fourth canto.

FOR THE game, Merrin was the high scorer with 19 on eight field goals and three foul shots. In addition, he grabbed 20 of the 41 rebounds accumulated by the Braves.

Tcm Smith, back at his familiar guard spot in the Braves' offense, notched 12. The other starters for Logan Elm, included Greg Fraumfelter, who had eight points, and Dale Jenne with two.

Mike Helwagen came off the bench for an 8-point scoring spree. Frey had 18 for the losers.

The Braves hit 18 of 25 at the foul line for a 72 per cent rate. From the field, they came in on 24 of 53 tries for a 45 per cent effort.

The Braves committed 19 personal fouls and had 13 turnovers in their season starter.

Carroll hit 20 of 29 at the foul line, 15 of 58 from the field, grabbed 33 rebounds and were charged with 14 turnovers by LE chartkeepers.

IN THE preliminary game, Logan Elm reserves garnered a 34-21 victory to make it a perfect night.

The Braves travel to New Lexington Friday where they will meet perennial cage power St. Aloysius Academy.
